

U.S. Official Benefits From Market Tip

No Improper Action Charged In SEC Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Secretary of Commerce Herbert W. Klotz, mentioned as one of a dozen persons who benefited from a tip on Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. stock, says his quick paper profit amounted to about $14,500.

Klotz was mentioned Monday in connection with a Securities and Exchange Commission suit that charged some officials of the company with concealing information about valuable copper and zinc discoveries in Canada. Although he was listed as receiving a tip, the SEC did not charge he acted improperly.

2,000 Shares
The Commerce Department official did not say if he had sold the 2,000 shares of stock. He bought them at $29.70 a share, he said, after receiving a tip from Miss Nancy Atkinson, now Mrs. Francis Brown, who was then working at the federal pavilion of the New York World's Fair.

Klotz said she stated that a long-time family friend, Kenneth H. Darke, who was employed by the company had told her family that the company had very good immediate and future prospects.

The stock closed at $37 a share on April 16, 1964, the day on which announcement of the ore discovery was made. It is now selling for $68 a share.

"In my official capacity with the Department of Commerce I have never had nor could be expected to have any dealings with the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. or its officials," Klotz said.

South Carolina Governor Quits For Senate Seat

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Gov. Donald S. Russell announced today he will resign as governor to pave the way for his appointment to the U.S. Senate seat now open due to the death of Sen. Olin D. Johnston. D-S.C. Russell, 59, a Democrat, made the announcement at a news conference.

Lt. Gov. Robert McNair, 43, will become governor and will appoint Russell.

The changeover will become effective at noon Thursday.

Report by McNamara

Increased Infiltration Of S. Viet Nam Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, returning today from a strategy meeting in Hawaii, said infiltration of men and arms from the North into South Viet Nam has increased "at a high rate" in recent months.

Thus the secretary, in a plane-side exchange, backgrounded the statement he made to news men Tuesday night in Honolulu that American air and sea action against North Viet Nam will be stepped up. He made that forecast at the close of two days of conferences with top military leaders from Saigon and Washington.

In answer to a question about reasons for such stepped-up action, McNamara said: "We sometimes fail to understand the importance of the action in South Viet Nam."

Asked about the Red Chinese threat to send troops into Viet Nam, McNamara replied: "I don't want to forecast action on Red China's part."

To another question about the threat of Soviet anti-aircraft missiles in North Viet Nam, McNamara said he thinks "we should anticipate that eventually" but there is no information yet that the missiles are on the site.

McNamara said that in a recent engagement with two Viet Cong units, 90 per cent of small arms captured and 100 per cent

Veteran War Writer

Columnist Hal Boyle En Route to Viet Nam

Hal Boyle, 54, Associated Press human interest columnist for 21 years, is en route to his third assignment to a major armed conflict — Viet Nam.

Boyle, whose daily column appears in approximately 500 afternoon newspapers, was war correspondent for The Associated Press in Africa and Europe in World War II where his frontline stories of GIs in action won him a Pulitzer Prize in 1945.

In 1950 he volunteered for Associated Press duty in Korea, and reported on frontline activities during the heaviest fighting on that peninsula. There he won the Veterans of Foreign War's gold medal award for "outstanding contribution to national security." He also received the Overseas Press Club top award for best reporting in radio, television and newspapers.

Column Started
Boyle's column was born under fire in Salerno, Italy, in 1943 and has been a continuous Associated Press feature since. Following the surrender of Japan he traveled around the world, writing stories from 65 countries.

Boyle's five-day-a-week column will be written from South Viet Nam during his assignment abroad.

In 1951, in presenting the VFW gold medal, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, then chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, said of Boyle:

"I am pleased that this award goes to a friend I have known so long. He is the soldier's friend. I don't know anyone who knows fighting at the front so well, or anyone who has written so well about it."

Boyle, who has been dubbed "The Poor Man's Philosopher" and the "Pavement Plato," is a native of Kansas City, Mo., where he started his AP career in 1928 as a copy boy at 17.

He was night city editor of the New York AP bureau in 1942 when he first went overseas.

Work Stoppages Delayed

New Rubber Pacts OK'd Tentatively

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The United Rubber Workers and two of the rubber industry's big three — Firestone and Goodrich — reached tentative agreements on new contracts early today, a few hours after old contracts expired.

The union and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the third member of the big three, also held a negotiating session that went past the midnight expiration time. The two sides were to resume talks later today.

No work stoppages were reported at the companies' plants across the country. The union's executive committee has strike vote authorization.

A union source in Dayton, Ohio, where the Goodrich talks are being held, estimated the new two-year contract would provide the company's URW workers with a 28-cent hourly wage-benefit package.

Cincinnati is the site of the Goodyear talks. Firestone negotiations are taking place in Cleveland.

Firestone presented an offer just before midnight, and the union announced a few hours later that it deemed the new terms acceptable as a tentative, agreement, subject to signing and write-up. All contracts will have to be ratified by local memberships.

The three companies employ some 51,500 URW members.

Wage Increases
The union was asking for a substantial wage increase, in addition to a cost-of-living hike, plus a 13-week vacation once every five years, two more paid holidays each year and a shorter work week.

Average hourly wages now are: Firestone $3.43; Goodyear, $3.14 and Goodrich, $3.16.

Also under way in Cleveland are talks with General Tire & Rubber Co. That contract, covering 3,300 workers, expires May 15. The U.S. Rubber Co. opens talks May 4 in New York for 22,000 employees whose pact runs out June 1.

Ambassador to Negotiate New Interocean Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is naming a special ambassador to handle negotiations on a possible new canal linking the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

He is John N. Irwin II, 51, a native of Keokuk, Iowa, who lives in New York City. Irwin is a former assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs.

The President also announced Tuesday he will nominate Charles Wallace Adair Jr., now deputy chief of missions in Buenos Aires, Argentina, as ambassador to Panama. He succeeds Jack Hood Vaughn, who is assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

Mississippi's Crest at LaCrosse Is 17.7 Feet

Weary Residents Still Face 3 Days of Watching Dikes Against Torrents of Water

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER

LA CROSSE (AP)—The Mississippi River's spring onslaught against La Crosse hit its peak today a few inches below the predicted level, but weary residents still faced three days of siege by the mightiest torrent in memory.

"That's as high as it's going to go," Weather Bureau river specialist Joseph Strub said at Minneapolis after the river had hung for 14 hours at the 17.7 foot level, just short of the predicted 18-foot crest.

But there were few cheers along the five-mile perimeter of dikes where hundreds of residents, National Guardsmen and volunteers from as far away as Milwaukee had just gone through 48 frenzied hours to raise one last row of sandbags.

High Mark
"Wait until Friday," one said grimly of the announced crest, which is 5.7 feet above flood stage and 2.4 feet above the high water mark of 1952. La Crosse weatherman Carl Peterson has said the water will not begin to recede until then.

The workers had been given a brief respite shortly before midnight, then went back on the dikes this morning.

The river has swelled to 17.7 feet, only inches short of an expected 18-foot crest, due to ram five miles of protective dikes before day's end and hold through Friday.

After 48 hours of frenzied labor on the dikes, flood fighters had won a standoff. Crews were given a brief rest shortly after midnight before returning to raise and reinforce the dikes.

The river already had claimed some victories. Water ringed the city's north side and had swept over two of three runways at the municipal airport on French Island. Phone service was cut to both locations.

Guard Tanks
A guard remained posted at a 15-million gallon gasoline tank farm where one tank, holding 107,000 gallons, was tipped at a 10-degree angle when a dike crumbled Monday. Water swirled eight feet deep around the self-sealing tanks and the potential fire danger added to the city's uneasiness.

Downstream at Clinton, Iowa, a 75-foot section of a dike collapsed without warning Tuesday, injuring 15 young volunteer flood fighters. Eleven were released after hospital treatment. Four were held for observation. The five-foot high wall is part of a mile-long dike officials hope will prevent major flood damage. The wall buckled under the weight of sandbags piled on top.

Budget Bureau Director Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kermit Gordon, director of the Bureau of the Budget since December 1962, is resigning about June 1 to become vice president of the Brookings Institution, a private research center.

He will be succeeded by Charles L. Schultz, who quit less than 10 weeks ago as assistant budget director and was told by President Johnson: "I hope that I may call on you for help in the future because we have so much unfinished business to see to."

Their Own Escalation

Red Chinese Threat Result of Communist Powers' Contest

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Red China's renewed threat to send volunteers to Viet Nam appears to be a result of a contest between the two big Communist powers. The contest is 'bringing about the Communists' own form of escalation of the peril in Southeast Asia.

The Red Chinese have seemed to be trying to force Moscow to become more and more involved in a bellicose quarrel with the United States. Peking now indicates it believes it is on the way to achieving such a goal.

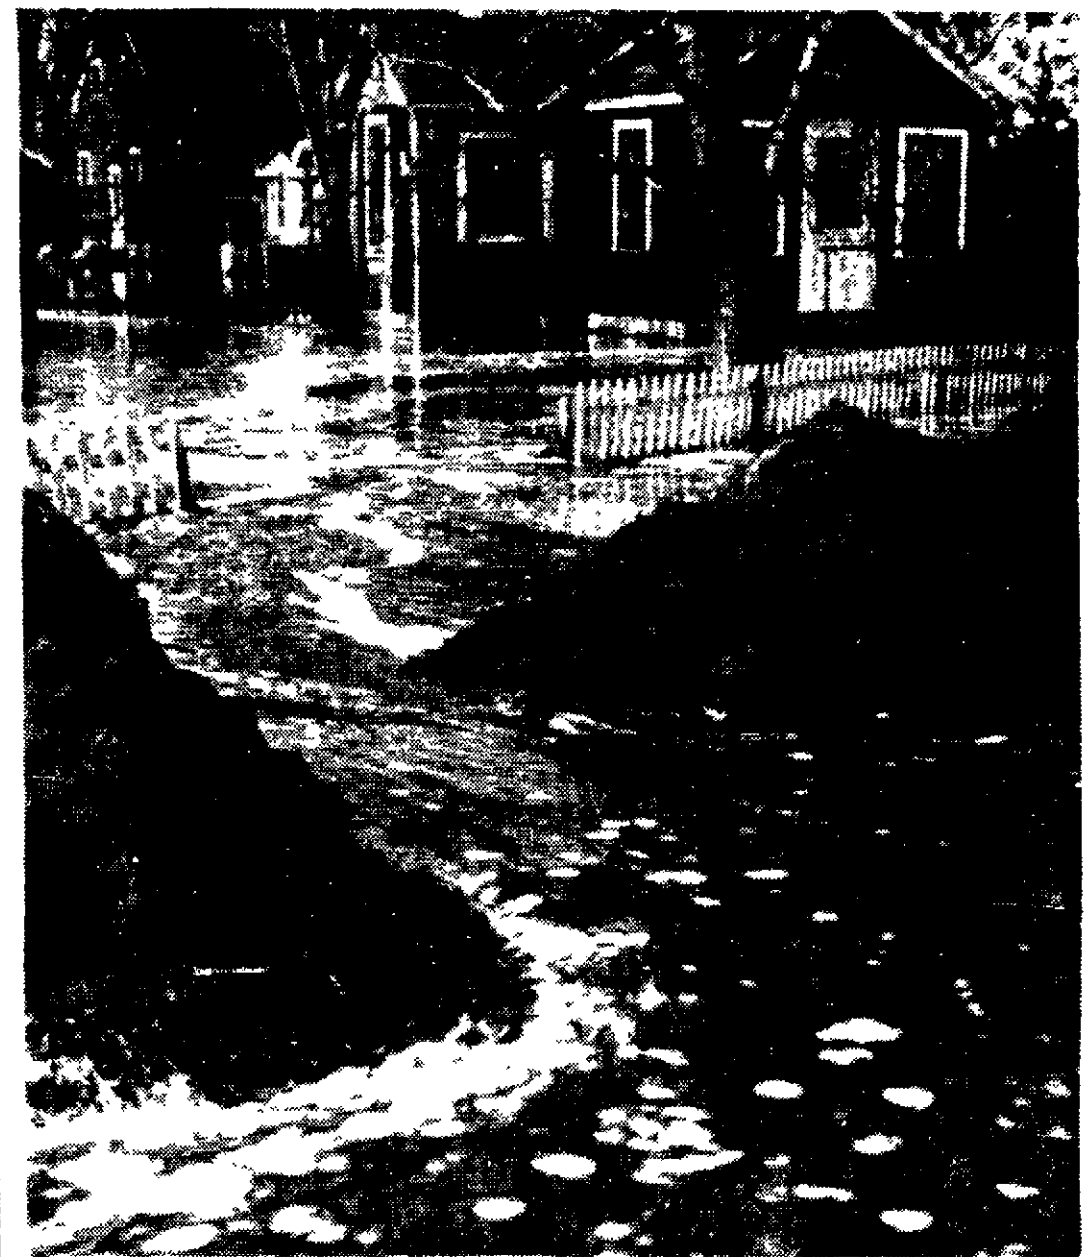

The standing committee of the National People's Congress in Peking announces it has called on Chinese organizations to "make preparations" to send their own people to fight the Americans in Viet Nam.

Real Question
The question is whether this is a real threat to intervene or a signal to the Communist world that Red China is more willing and more able than the Soviet Union to call the shots in Southeast Asia. The latter seems the case.

Peking — as before — still is "prepared" to send volunteers. It has not said it will send them. Several ifs are attached to the broadside — if "U.S. imperialism continues to escalate" the war; if the Vietnamese ask such help Peking will be the judge of the first if. As for the second, there are strong doubts that Hanoi is anxious to have a flood of Chinese volunteers.

Strong Evidence
There is strong evidence that the Moscow-Peking struggle for influence in the Communist and underdeveloped worlds is involved in Peking's threats. As if accusing the Russians of failing in their duty to the world.

Appears Before Grand Jury

Night-Rider Slaying Suspect Reported as FBI Informant

BY REX THOMAS

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — One of the four men originally arrested in the night-rider slaying of Viola Liuzzo testified for about two hours before a Lowndes County grand jury, nearing the end of its probe into the case.

Gary Thomas Rowe, 34, of Birmingham, reportedly an undercover agent for the FBI, was guarded closely during his appearance Tuesday. Then he was taken to an undisclosed location.

An FBI agent was with him when he slipped into the jury room through a side door of the courthouse and later escorted him out a back door. A number of other agents were in the area.

Charge Dismissed
The government dismissed charges against Rowe some time after his arrest.

Another who testified was Leroy Moton, 19, a Selma Negro who was with Mrs. Liuzzo when gunfire from a passing car killed her a few hours after the end of the Selma to Montgomery civil rights march.

The Detroit mother of five was on the way back to Montgomery after taking some marchers to Selma. The shooting occurred March 25 near Lowndesboro on U.S. Highway 80.

Two state investigators, several federal agents and a toxicologist appeared before the jury the past two days.

Others Indicted
The other three arrested in the case were indicted by a federal grand jury in Montgomery on charges of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of demonstrators.

They are Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, and Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield. They are free on bonds of $50,000 each pending arraignment in Montgomery.

At Bogalusa, La., James

Farmer, director of the Congress of Racial Equality, led a long line of Negroes, most of them teen-agers, on a 55-minute march through the downtown area to the City Hall.

The demonstrators sang at City Hall while a four-member delegation met with Mayor Jesse Cutrer. Their grievances included a demand that three policemen be fired or suspended for profanity and that laws be enforced equally against whites and Negroes.

Suit Filed
The Justice Department filed suit in U.S. District Court at New Orleans, asking that six Bogalusa restaurants be enjoined from refusing service to Negroes.

Other developments on the racial scene included: — The arrest of 18 Negroes at Jackson, Miss. when they tried to picket a hotel where Sheriff James G. Clark of Selma, Ala., was attending a convention.

— Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, announced an intensified voter registration program in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina.

— President Johnson expressed the hope in Washington that Congress will enact "the voting rights bill without delay."

— At Boston, Mrs. James J. Reeb, wife of a Unitarian minister, slain during the Selma voter registration campaign, was presented a check for $41,000 by James E. Mills, editor of the Birmingham Post-Herald.

The money was contributed by people throughout the nation. It will be used to set up a trust fund for Mrs. Reeb and her four children.

U. S. Imperialist Product

'Destroy S. Viet Nam' Reported Peking View

TOKYO (AP) — Red China said today the republic of South Viet Nam must be destroyed as a "product of U.S. imperialism" so that all Viet Nam can be reunified.

"There can be no compromise between the Vietnamese people and the U.S. aggressors on this question," said the Chinese Communist party paper, the Peking People's Daily.

Attacking President Johnson's April 17 statement that the United States insists that he independence of South Viet Nam be guaranteed, Peking said:

Great Sacrifice
"The very purpose for which the South Vietnamese people are fighting at great sacrifice to themselves is to destroy completely this so-called 'independent country,' a product of U.S. imperialism, and to realize the reunification and complete liberation of their fatherland."

"So long as this so-called 'independent country' created by the U.S. exists, there can be no complete reunification nor a completely independent country for the Vietnamese people themselves. There can be no compromise between the Vietnamese people and the U.S. aggressors on this question."

The People's Daily charged that the United States "has

Political Unrest Grows Among Costa Ricans

Sitting on Dynamite,
One Diplomat Says
Of Latin Nation

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Growing signs of political discontent challenge further military rule in Central America.

Army regimes in Honduras and Guatemala are sitting on "a couple of barrels of dynamite," says one diplomat.

Resentment is stirring against the rule of the Somoza family in Nicaragua.

Revolutionary plots are even reported in Costa Rica which has no army as its 1966 election approaches. No conspiracies are known in El Salvador but some officers there are reported to want a more militarily-minded president than the colonel in office.

Political Parties

Castro Communist subversion is in the background. Many Guatemalans and Hondurans fear the outlawed Communists are infiltrating political parties.

In Honduras the Liberal party is bitter about its defeat in the February election accusing the government of frauds. The election in effect kept Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano 43 and the Nationalist party in power. Lopez and other officers ousted Liberal President Ramon Villeda Morales in 1963.

Both Lopez and Col. Enrique Peralta Azurdia, chief of Guatemala's military government, have reported terrorist plots. Peralta imposed a state of siege in February after the bombing of an army truck killed two soldiers. Francisco Villagran Kramer and several other left-wing politicians were arrested and exiled.

Overthrow President

Peralta overthrew President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes in 1963 to set up an ever stiffer anti-Communist regime. He has told friends that he does not want to be a presidential candidate and Guatemalans seem to believe him. There is widespread suspicion, however, that the military will attempt to put up another "official" candidate.

Nicaragua's election is due in 1967 but the campaign of Gen. Anastasio Somoza already is well advanced. Head of Nicaragua's National Guard son of assassinated strong man Anastasio Somoza, the general is a younger brother of ex President Luis Somoza.

A Somoza man, Rene Schick, now is running Nicaragua — and smoothly — as president. But Gen. Somoza's candidacy manifest in public receptions given him by various official and semi-official organizations is stirring up again the opposition's resentment against what it calls the Somoza family dynasty.

Election Coming

As Costa Rica prepares to elect a new president next year, government leaders have reported the discovery of revolutionary plots among persons identified only as dissident elements.

Elections in El Salvador are two years off. Army colonels have long provided Central America's smallest country with its presidents like President Julio A. Rivera 43, who was elected in 1962. Some conservatives dislike Rivera's labor and tax reforms, while some of the military feel he has worked too closely with civilians.

Nuclear Ocean Vehicle Studied

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The government is working on a nuclear-powered craft which would probe the ocean depths for new sources of raw materials.

A White House statement said and Atomic Energy Commission are developing a nuclear powered deep submergence research and ocean engineering vehicle.

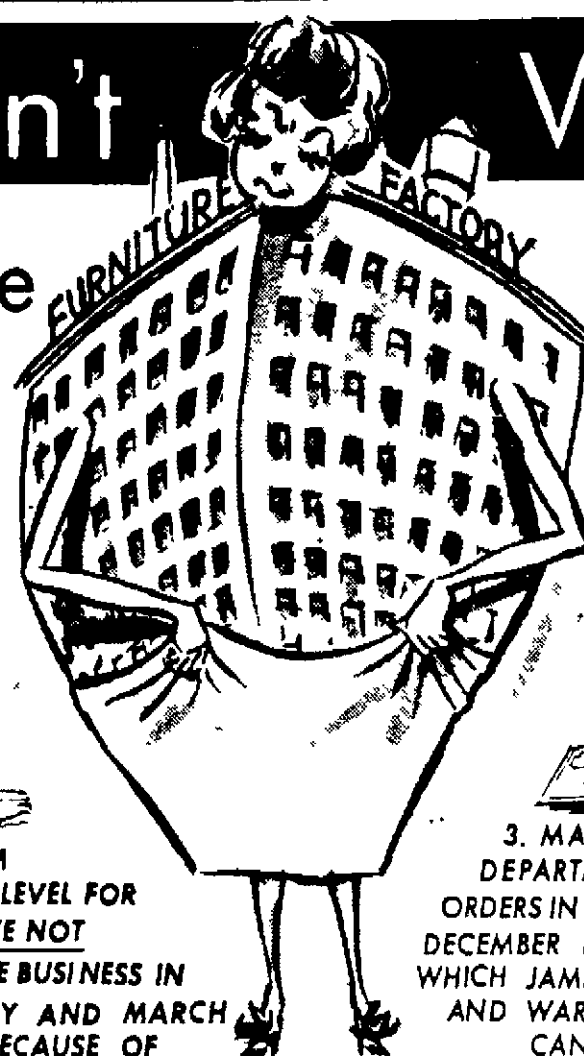

A White House statement said the vehicle — the word submarine wasn't used — would be capable of operating over an ocean floor area several times that of the United States and would go far deeper than existing deep research vehicles.

Home Corps Plan Wins Approval of Outagamie Board

Welfare Department Granted Authority to Start New Service

Authority was given to the Outagamie County Welfare Department this morning to begin a "home corps" program on July 1.

By a 47-4 vote, the county board authorized a salary range of between $280 and $330 a month for the position. The resolution didn't specify how many "welfare homemakers" would be employed, but Director of Public Welfare Alfred R. Eggert explained he planned to employ two women initially, "although we have a need for at least five."

He explained to the board that about 90 per cent of the salaries would be paid for in federal and state funds.

Objections Answered

Eggert told objecting county board supervisors, "We need people in this position to help people to help themselves, instead of letting them become dependent on the county for financial relief."

"Right now," he said, "we have caseworkers who try to help people to understand themselves in order to adjust better to society. But case work isn't enough. Many, many people need someone to show them how to manage a home, their money and their budget and give their children better discipline so they can develop into good citizens."

Several supervisors questioned how some people could get help from these homemakers when they are living on Social Security payments, receive relief checks and have no direct connection with the welfare department.

Several town chairmen-supervisors, however, explained that they knew of several cases where people are receiving no direct welfare department financial aid, and that these cases would be referred to the welfare department.

Service Voluntary

"Just because a person doesn't come to us voluntarily, are we supposed to deny them this service?" Eggert asked. "We may have to expend some effort to get some people to accept this kind of help," he said, "but

Carpenters Reject New Contract Offer

OSHKOSH — Seven meetings between the Fox River Valley District Council of Carpenters and the Fox River Valley Contractors Association have failed to produce a settlement on a contract which expired April 1, according to a spokesman for the association.

At the last meeting of the two groups, April 12, with federal conciliator James Despins of Green Bay in attendance, the contractors offered a 63-cent wage increase over a three-year period with increases of 20 cents the first and second years and 23 cents the third year, plus provisions for a health and welfare plan and other contract improvements.

The offer made to the carpenters is three cents higher than the contract settlements already made with the laborers and bricklayers. If this offer is accepted, the new base rate will be $3.90 per hour.

Approximately 1,500 carpenters throughout the Fox River Valley and northern Wisconsin are involved. Labor officials of the district council could not be reached for comment.

Outagamie Fines Appleton Man $150 For Reckless Driving

Harold Sauer, 59, route 1, Appleton, was fined $150 and costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today where he was found guilty of reckless driving. Sauer pleaded no contest to the charge.

Asst. City Atty. Dennis Herrling asked that a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol against Sauer be changed to reckless driving.

Sauer was arrested by Appleton police on W. Glendale Avenue Dec. 21 and had requested a jury trial, which had been set for Thursday.

Ordinance Petitions

Proponents of the charter changes—objected to by City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich and City Clerk Elden Broehm—claim the wording of the charter ordinance petitions do not give a full explanation of what would take place when appointments were made to the various positions.

"Shall the charter ordinances of the City of Appleton be amended to permit the mayor to appoint position listed pursuant to a charter ordinance adopted by the city councilmen on March 17?" is the question the anti-charter change group want presented to the voters.

It does not include the terms of the ordinances that all appointments must be subject to confirmation by a vote of the common council. Several petition-circulators interpreted the charter changes as a "power grab" on the part of the mayor.

member to serve on the city plan commission.

However, city hall veterans said the ballot battle between Aids. Gerald Wagner (18th) and Clifford Radder (16th) fell considerably short of being a record-setter.

Several years ago the council had more than 120 secret ballots and deliberated far into the night before electing a building inspector.

Wagner finally won out by a 13-5 margin, taking a good share of the evening to get a two-thirds majority vote as prescribed by ordinance.

Several times Wagner received 12 votes but it wasn't until 10:03 p.m. that he hit lucky No. 13.

Mayor Presents Sweeping Recommendations to Foster Appleton's Future Growth

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Mayor Clarence Mitchell laid down a list of sweeping recommendations to the city council Tuesday night geared to promote the growth and economy of Appleton from now through 1980.

There was little frosting in the mayor's hard-hitting, 13-page "state of the city" message to the municipal governing body at its annual reorganization meeting at the city hall.

Mitchell, starting his eighth year as the city's chief executive, made his position clear on several matters and proposed to acquire raw land (before projects, along with supplying a blueprint for major annexations which would expand the city's size by 25 square miles.

High points of Mitchell's message:

Annexation System

—The City of Appleton should declare its intention to systematically annex the area contained within the U. S. 41-Tri-County Expressway loop, which includes parts of the Towns of Grand Chute, Menasha, Buchanan and Harrison.

—A special citizens' advisory committee should be created to aid and assist the governing bodies in preparing annexation proceedings.

—Every effort should be made, working through local, regional and state agencies, to arrive at a decision for a new water supply for Appleton within out permitting the proposed project to become dormant.

Park, Recreation

—The park and recreation departments should be consolidated into one department to avoid duplication of services, manpower and equipment.

—A capital improvement program should be reviewed by the council and project priorities readjusted if necessary.

—When the city's comprehensive plan is completed by a St. Louis consulting firm, the council should adopt and implement it.

—It would be wise for the city to acquire raw land (before buildings are built on it) for park, school, industrial and other purposes.

Keep Centralized

—It would be a mistake to decentralize municipal services by putting up buildings at three or four locations as proposed by one councilman, and the city should proceed with construction of one new municipal garage.

—He strongly recommended the city "bend its back a little bit" to help present industries wishing to relocate or expand, while continuing the search for new industries and developing a climate for them to come here.

—Favorable action should be taken by the council on proposed land transactions involving the city and a major local industry (Wisconsin-Michigan

Deadlock in Little Chute Board Election

Trustee Vote Ends In Tie; Committee Appointments Made

LITTLE CHUTE—The village board was unsuccessful in naming a trustee to succeed Edward Spierings who resigned his post Tuesday night to assume duties as village president.

Four applications were received for the trustee post which is for a one-year term. After three ballots ended in deadlock, the key committees are Ald. trustees agreed to vote again at the May meeting.

Tied on the voting were Robert VandenBoogart, former trustee who was defeated at the last election and Paul A. Hiel, former trustee who was defeated for village president in 1963. Other applicants for the post were Clyde VanDyvenhoven, who ran unsuccessfully earlier this month, and Leo Lamers.

Committees Appointed

Spierings appointed committees, with seats on several left open until the new trustee is appointed.

The finance and relief committee includes Clarence Lamers, chairman, Jack Lamers and Joseph Versteegen. Street and bridge committee has Jack Lamers, chairman, Clarence Lamers and Lloyd VandenHeuvel. The building committee, headed by Patrick Blohm, will include VandenHeuvel and the new trustee. VandenHeuvel heads the ordinance committee assisted by Blohm and Versteegen.

Police and fire is headed by Versteegen, assisted by Blohm and the new man.

Public utilities chairman will be the new trustee and the two Lamers.

Trustees also authorized the village clerk to advertise for a full-time park caretaker and approved a sewer and water permit for Clayton VanderHeiden, who will build at 203 Fillmore St.

A 25-Ton Bulldozer lies demolished after it and the lowboy trailer on which it was riding were tossed 98 feet by a Chicago and North Western Railroad train today. 7 Hurt as Passenger Train Hits 45 Tons of Trailer, Bulldozer

No Serious Injury in Crash Near Little Chute on North Western Line

LITTLE CHUTE — Seven persons were injured, none seriously, today, West DePere, shoulder, leg, foot when a Chicago and North Western Railway passenger train collided with a 20,000-ton, truck pulled by a 25-ton bulldozer on Rose Hill Road near the eastern limits of the village.

The trailer and bulldozer were hung up on the tracks, according to Kenneth R. LeBouet, 35, Powers, Mich., driver of the truck pulling the load. He managed to disconnect the cab part of the truck before the impact and ran down the tracks waving a red flag in an unsuccessful effort to stop the train.

Most seriously injured was Robert Holzman, Fond du Lac, who reported stolen, at 5:45 p.m. Monday from Harold Belongue, 237 Ryan St., Kaukauna. The facial lacerations and was taken vehicle was found on Oviatt St. in Kaukauna ambulance.

Kaukauna Police Recover Stolen Car

Belongue told police he parked the car on John Street about 7 a.m. Monday and found it missing when he returned from work about 5:30 p.m. His keys had been left under the front seat of the car.

It was recovered about two blocks from where it was reported stolen, but the owner was unable to determine how far it had been driven.

OK Appointment For County Board

Unanimous Outagamie County Board approval was given this morning to three committee appointments by Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer of Kimberly.

Supv. Russell DeLaHunt (Kaukauna 5) was named to a two-year term on the Fox Brennan, who has headquarters in Milwaukee. Mayor Mitchell (Cicero) was named to a three-year term on the handicapped children's board, and Supv. reorganizing the police and fire departments named to a two-year term on the board to fill the unexpired term of former Shuocton Supv. George Miller.

Couldn't Stop

Kaukauna police were alerted and attempted to halt the train in Kaukauna, but the train had already passed. The train crew attempted to stop the fast-moving train when they saw the trouble, but skidded into the 35-ton unit, tossing it 98 feet from the point of impact.

The train continued on for 500 feet after the collision. Conductor was C. J. Stoegbauer; engineer, Leonard Trexall, and brakeman, Edward Zikau, all of Fond du Lac.

The front end of the Diesel was badly damaged, but managed to pull the train onto a siding in Little chute to wait for a new engine.

The train, made up in Green Bay, was an express to Chicago. The bulldozer was thrown into a ditch on the north side of the tracks and the trailer into blocks from where it was reported stolen, but the owner was unable to determine how far it had been driven.

Bayorgeon Named To Fire Commission

Mayor Mitchell Names Members Of City Council Committees

Atty. James T. Bayorgeon, a former alderman and assistant district attorney now in private practice, was named to the Appleton Fire and Police Commission Tuesday night.

Bayorgeon

Coughlin

The appointment of Bayorgeon, 331 E. Randall St., was made by Mayor Clarence Mitchell and confirmed by the council.

Bayorgeon, who served an unexpired term on the council as 17th Ward alderman two years ago, will succeed Atty. Patrick F. Coughlin, Grand Chute.

Coughlin, a veteran member of the commission, is a former president of the group. Up until last year he had been a resident of Appleton and then moved into the township.

Court Commissioner

In addition to his law practice, Coughlin is a federal court commissioner for this district.

Supv. Russell DeLaHunt having been appointed to the position by U.S. Attorney James (Cicero) was named to a three-year term on the handicapped children's board, and Supv. reorganizing the police and fire departments named to a two-year term on the board to fill the unexpired term of former Shuocton Supv. George Miller.

County Board Reminded It Must Reapportion This Year

Supervisors on the Outagamie County Board were reminded today that they will have more year elbow room when they meet April 19, 1966.

They approved a resolution authorizing the executive committee to begin work on an existing county re-apportionment plan which must be presented to the board by no later than September's session.

County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer reminded the board that it will be a difficult task and that it is required by law. A law must be passed, he said, in present 55 to a maximum of 47 members and the plan which must be approved before the year ends will set up special supervisory districts based on the "one man, one vote" principle.

Purchase Flags

Approval was given to the purchase of 50 flags for use on village streets and the clerk was authorized to advertise for applicants for the volunteer fire department. Blanks are available at the clerk's office.

May 3 to 7 was designated as clean-up week in the village. No change in committee appointments was made since all trustees were re-elected at the last election. Members of the administrative committee are Elmer VanderVelden, chairman, Francis VanderWeil and Paul VanDyke.

Members of the maintenance committee are John Gaffney, chairman, Albert VanderWeil, chairman, Bernard VandenBoogaard, chairman, and Bernard VandenBoogaard, chairman.

Named to the planning commission was Albert VanderWelen and to the library board Paul Van Dyke.

Calumet to End Mentally Retarded Class Sponsorship

Supervisors Turn Program Over to Individual School Districts After July 1 in County

CHILTON — Calumet County the supervisors adopted a resolution Tuesday to terminate sponsorship of special classes for retarded children in the county by July 1.

They recommended that responsibility of the program be turned over to the individual school districts. Teachers and classrooms have been obtained for the 1965-66 school term.

The post of county school superintendent also will be phased out by July 1 with an allotment of 60 days to close the office.

Okay Zoning Changes

In other action the board adopted the five zoning changes recommended by the Park County Highway Commissioner. It opened the way for the Village of Potter to rezone the entire community. Zoning regulations have been unchanged since originally adopted in 1948.

Also included were a pair of courthouse assembly room at an mobile home parks, one between New Holstein and Chilton and the other between Kiel and the New Holstein, both on State 57. Assembly room remodeling was given permission to construct a liquid installation of a stove, sink and nitrogen fertilizer tank near refrigerator to be used in home economics demonstrations.

Relocation of the Lake Park Tavern to a plot a half mile from the County Park Commission north of its present site was made possible. The new Clerk Roland E. Miller was land will be rezoned from agriculture to commercial and allow for road construction at the present site.

Deny Request

The board also concurred with the zoning commission's recommendation in denying the request of Frank Schneider, Town of Harrison, to build a recreation center at the site of his trout pond and pheasant and duck hunting refuge north of High Cliff Park.

Brothertown was authorized to pass its individual zoning ordinance by the board. It was passed 30-2 at the April 6 town meeting.

The public grounds committee was authorized to purchase a dictating machine for $207 at opening Tuesday afternoon.

Elusive Burglar Hits Appleton

Police Seek Person Who Raids Homes In Early Evening

An elusive home burglar who has plagued Appleton police for more than a year struck twice more Tuesday night, making off with a unusable .32 caliber revolver.

Struck were the homes of Charles Captain, 1724 N. Harrison St., and P. D. Pettegrew, 141 River Drive. Police said entry to both homes was gained by prying open a bedroom window. Drawers and dressers were ransacked in a search for money and valuables.

The pistol was taken from a bedroom dresser drawer at the Pettegrew home, police said.

Police have been bothered by an early-evening home burglar whose method entry has been prying open bedroom windows. At one time last year, 17 burglaries, believed the work of the same burglar or burglars, were reported in a single night.

Police said the burglar works in the early evening hours when home residents are away on short errands. Tuesday night's burglaries were discovered shortly after 10 p.m., but were believed to have occurred several hours earlier.

Little Value Seen in U.N. Arms Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Seldom has a U.N. disarmament debate offered less promise than the one beginning today in the 114-nation disarmament commission.

As arms experts gathered at U.N. headquarters for the opening session, some Western diplomats feared the public debate might serve only to emphasize current East-West differences.

Unless the Soviet Union intends to use the commission as a platform for raising the Viet Nam issue and the use of non-lethal gas there, they ask, why did the Russians seek a public debate rather than the usual private negotiations in Geneva?

U.S. officials are braced for a Communist attack similar to recent blasts in other U.N. meetings. Although they have not said so publicly, they suspect Soviet motives and are skeptical about the chances of any good coming from the public discussions.

Official Paper Dispute Aired For Council

Northwestern of Oshkosh Moves to Stop TCNR Bidding

MENASHA — City Atty. Richard Steffens Tuesday night brought aldermen, both new and old, up to date on what he said would be the first controversial issue to come before the new council May 4 — the contract for the official city publication.

Steffens said the city has been involved in litigation over the issue the last three years and the city has again been served with an injunction.

A suit has been brought by the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern, in the name of Thomas Pink, against the city of Menasha, in an effort to stop the Twin City News-Record from bidding for official newspaper.

The case is now before Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane and Steffens said Judge Cane has promised a ruling before May 4.

The city attorney said it was not Judge Cane's fault the matter has not been settled but the newspaper's because it delayed in pressing the suit to conclusion.

Steffens said he has always held the News-Record is not eligible to bid, and, he added, he has also held the Northwestern is disqualified because it is not published in Menasha. On that basis, he said, the council can do what it wishes insofar as publishing legal notices, including posting them on utility poles in each ward.

He cautioned the aldermen the low bid law. He said he was a stickler on this. If a contract is not awarded to the low bidder, the individual aldermen are liable for damages, he indicated.

Steffens said he also understood a third paper may bid for the official paper contract. Bids for official publication extra inning game when they will be opened at noon May 4 and will be acted upon by the three runs in the sixth. Neenah had led 7-2 after 4½ frames.

Socialite Urges Leaders be Fishermen for the Lord

FBI Arrests Son Of Man Held in Bank Holdup

Charge 16-Year-Old Chilton Youth Aided In Withee Robbery

Michael Hephner, 16, son of bank robbery suspect Raymond Hephner, 39, route 4, Chilton, was arrested by FBI agents and local authorities at his rural Chilton home Tuesday as an alleged accomplice in the $11,000 holdup of the Withee bank March 31.

Special Agent Richard J. Baker, Milwaukee, said the youth will be charged with aiding and abetting and being an accessory of his father in the bank holdup.

Details of the arrest and the part the youth is alleged to have played in the bank robbery were not released by authorities. Both the youth and his father are scheduled for preliminary hearings in a Milwaukee federal court Friday.

Michael was taken before U.S. Commissioner John Duffy in Green Bay after his arrest and was released on his own bond of $1,000.

Recover Funds

Agents and Calumet County Sheriff Cornelius Kosmosky arrested the youth's father Saturday morning at his rural home and recovered a reported $1,500 in money alleged to have been taken in the robbery. Hephner denied at the time of his arrest that he had any connection with the robbery. He is being held in the Brown County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond.

In the Withee robbery, a man who posed as a prospective automobile buyer seeking to arrange a loan staged an armed robbery and abducted the bank cashier, Leon Bruchert, 37, and the car salesman, Melvin J. Boardman, 46, and made off with the money.

Bruchert and Boardman were locked in the trunk of the getaway car when the bandit abandoned it on a rural road.

Police records show that the elder Hephner served a prison term for bank robberies in Pearl City and Kent, Ill., and Edmund, Wis., in 1952.

Shiocton Bar Operator Faces Trial on Violation

Conrad was charged with allowing a 17 year old youth to enter his tavern April 9.

Air Line Gone, Back, Gone, Back Again

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Trying to keep abreast of the airport situation in Outagamie and the status of North Central Airlines service to the Fox Cities brings to mind the old "Abbott and Costello" routine of "Who's on First?"

Events on Monday took North Central service away from the Fox Cities; but on Tuesday events brought North Central service back, took it away again, and finally brought it back again.

Getting confused? As of this moment, it will be possible to fly out of Appleton Saturday on a North Central Airlines DC3, but not from the Outagamie County Airport.

Getting more confused? Changes on Saturday

The Outagamie County Airport (the one we have today in the Town of Grand Chute) won't be the Outagamie County Airport on Saturday. The new airport (the one we don't have today because it is sitting idle in the Town of Greenville) will be the Outagamie County Airport on Saturday.

Getting even more confused? Let's go back to the beginning in order to find out why Appleton suddenly is in the class of "two airport cities" such as New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Washington, D. C.

Two years ago when the Outagamie County Board voted to build the new airport in the Town of Greenville, supervisors expected that someday they could merely close down the old airport, open the new airport, and have North Central service transferred from one to the other.

The fates just weren't going to allow things to go that smoothly.

Outagamie County found itself in a contest with Winnebago County over which county airport should be designated the regional airport by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to serve the Fox Valley complex of cities.

After two years of hearings, CAB trial examiner Edward T. Stodola recommended that a new regional airport be built in the vicinity of Neenah to serve the area. However, Stodola recommended that if the new regional airport wasn't built, service should be continued separately at each airport.

On Nov. 24 the CAB announced that it disagreed with its examiner and ruled the Winnebago County Airport in Oshkosh be designated the regional airport. Outagamie County filed a petition for reconsideration with the CAB, but the board refused to grant the request.

Then Outagamie announced it was appealing the CAB decision to the 7th District United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

The CAB then decided to grant a stay on the Jan. 25 effective date of its ruling which would last until after the federal court disposes of appeals in the airport controversy. The board also ruled that the "status quo" must be maintained until after the court disposes of the case.

However, Outagamie County didn't want to be in the position of operating two airports, so a resolution was passed saying the old airport would be closed on April 24. North Central, after refusing several requests, announced it would not transfer its operations voluntarily to the new airport and asked CAB authority to suspend service to Appleton when the old airport is closed.

On Monday the board granted North Central the authority if Outagamie County closes its old airport on Saturday.

The county got air service back again Tuesday even though the board ratified the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) document to transfer the operating covenant from the old airport to the new airport. County officials had papers prepared later in the day in which the U.S. Court was asked to grant a stay of the suspension of service and, in a separate petition, to conduct a judicial review of the decision.

Papers Incorrect

However, it was discovered later Tuesday that the papers were incorrect and incomplete and couldn't be filed on time for the stay to be granted, so service seemed likely to end Saturday again.

Plans were made to have petitions prepared by the county's Washington airport counsel to the U.S. Court requesting a stay and review, but it was learned this couldn't be completed until Monday.

Outagamie County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath realized Monday was too late because North Central service was going to end Saturday, so he sent North Central a telegram late Tuesday in which he said the county is preparing a petition for judicial review of the CAB permission to North Central and he advised the airline the county was keeping the old airport open for North Central's exclusive use until the matter is resolved.

So, as of now, North Central planes will be serving the Fox Cities for at least two or three more weeks at the "abandoned" airport at the corner of Ballard Road and Northland Avenue in the Town of Grand Chute.

And a formation of private aircraft based on the old airport on will fly to the new airport Saturday when it is opened and is designated the Outagamie County Airport.

Air Wisconsin Plans

One more factor complicates the situation. A new urban airline, "Air Wisconsin," has been formed in Appleton. Air Wisconsin is delaying plans to purchase aircraft until the North Central dilemma is resolved. Officers of the new airline are skeptical about beginning operations until they are certain North Central won't be here.

Air Wisconsin officials may not have to wait long, because county officials are under pressure from several community leaders to accept the CAB verdict because they say North Central service is inadequate and Air Wisconsin service would be much better.

Mark Catlin, County Board airport committee chairman, indicated Tuesday that if the federal court fails to take favorable action on the petitions for a stay and review, accepting the CAB ruling probably will be the county's course of action.

If events are confusing to the public which is trying to follow the case, imagine the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors.

And each succeeding day is likely to contain new events which further confuse the aviation picture here.

It's a pretty safe thing to bet

we can't and won't force anybody."

Eggett told the board that County Judges Gustave A. Keller and Raymond P. Dohr have requested this service on several occasions.

Supv. Walter Fredericks (New London 3) offered an amendment that the resolution be laid over until the May board session. County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer of Kimberly called for a voice vote on the amendment, but the "ayes" and "no's" were equally loud so he called for a roll call vote and the amendment was defeated, 41 to 10.

In other action the board upheld a zoning committee action which denied the rezoning of property in the Town of Grand Chute from agriculture to commercial.

The rezoning request came from Donald and Shirley Juse and it was for property at the corner of Van Dyke Street and County Trunk BB.

Newly-elected Town of Grand Chute Chairman and Supv. Thomas Thorson said the rezoning issue was a major issue in the recent campaign which resulted in the defeat of veteran incumbent Arthur Lecker. Thorson said the rezoning request was to allow a beer bar to be built at the intersection.

Power Co.) which wants to undertake a major expansion in the industrial park area.

He requested the street-sanitation committee and council, working with the public works director, to develop a comprehensive street resurfacing program for Appleton so the bulk of the work can be done this summer.

Fruitful Year

Mitchell said the past year had been a fruitful one as he listed the projects completed or authorized by the council.

Mitchell referred to completion of the sewage plant addition, a multimillion dollar sewer main construction program in which storm and sanitary sewer mains were separated, construction of a new No. 1 fire station, elimination of the curve at Wisconsin-Meade intersection, reconstruction of the Prospect-Memorial intersection to improve traffic flow, reconstruction of other main thoroughfares, start of the extension of Franklin-Washington Street to be completed this summer, parkland purchases

Appleton must be content, for the present time, to work within the framework of these state statutes which prescribe annexation procedures.

Support Legislation

Mitchell said Appleton should encourage other actively support and encourage the legislation, at the state level, which will permit direct annexation of areas adjacent to the city's boundaries "essential to our continuing growth and prosperity."

With Appleton the focal point for the heavy urbanization taking place in the Fox Valley, Mitchell said it was the responsibility of city officials to take action now which would lead to tax inequities which ultimately benefit no one, Mitchell warned.

"So there will be no misundstandings on the part of citizens or governmental units, we must publicly declare our intentions to annex... such declaration of intent will form the solid basis on which to direct the expenditure of public monies in the years to come," Mitchell said.

The 25-square mile area being eyed for annexation extends north from Prospect Avenue-U.S. 41 (County BB) to the French Road and then south on French Road to the river and down to the Spiel School road.

"At the present time, annexations can only be achieved through the initiative of those citizens having a vested interest in any given parcel of land," Mitchell said.

"The City of Appleton must be content, for the present time, to work within the framework of these state statutes which prescribe annexation procedures."

better efficiency and continuity in the administrative branch of city government.

Broehm, under the statute, has 15 days in which to check the petitions to determine if they are sufficient (meet all legal requirements) and then must certify them to the council.

However, the filing today does not preclude the council tonight from ordering the special election which would have a city-wide vote on the referendum questions scheduled in about 90 days. After the mayor's message last night, several aldermen indicated the special election could also cover election of an alderman in the 15th Ward.

Errors in Election

The council threw out the results of the last aldermanic election in that ward, based on testimony of "errors and irregularities" at the polling station by the City Clerk and some pollworkers. The matter is now in litigation but a decision is expected soon.

May 19 was the deadline for the citizens group to file their petitions. A spokesman said they had more than the required 1,410 signers for each petition "some-time ago" and decided to file them with the new council today.

Balliet said he was opposed to a special election and wanted the referendum next spring "to give more people a chance to turn out at the polls and be heard." Terms of the officials affected by the charter change expire in the spring of 1966.

Mitchell minced no words on the charter ordinance matter in his annual message to the council. It is the mayor's feeling the council and other city departments have too many major programs coming up and that unnecessary controversy would be delaying and costly.

He told the council the charter ordinances passed by it specifically state that appointments would be made on merit, training and qualifications for the four positions. Examinations would be given applicants by the state bureau of personnel and a list of the top-ranked would be supplied the mayor. He would make the appointments, which must be approved by a vote of the council.

Misleading Statements

"We have heard and we have seen many statements made in regard to this question of appointive versus elective offices. Many of these statements have been misleading; many of them have been confusing to citizens of Appleton," Mitchell declared.

Solons Are Asked For Utility Study

MENASHA — The request for council will be asked tonight to an impartial study of the utility sale question suit against the International was presented in person to the Salt Co which was convicted by Menasha Council Monday night the government of fixing prices. by Edward Graves. 444 Nicolet Steffens said two suits have Blvd., and was received without been started against the com- ment by the aldermen. pany by the National Institute Graves had written Mayor of Municipal Law Officers. John Klein, with copies of the including one in Milwaukee. If letter going to the aldermen, on the association wins the suit, March 19, requesting a "disin- Menasha could recover up to terested study by a qualified one-third of the $12,191 the city impartial agency."

Only a short time before the letter was written, Wisconsin Michigan Power Co withdrew its offer to purchase the Mena- sha Electric Utility when it became apparent the Council would turn down the offer.

Good Policy
In his letter, Graves said that "as a matter of good public policy, such an investigation should be made as promptly as possible and the results be made known to the people."

Monday night he told the council that the use of the word "investigation" was perhaps un- fortunate because he did not mean to imply any wrong-doing on the part of the utilities commission

He urged a careful study of the "pluses and minuses" of all the facts. "To my knowledge," Graves said, "no impartial study has been made. People have judged this on sentiment. Now is the time when you can coolly and quietly make a study."

He continued that "it might well be that our pride of ownership is justified but it also might be more than we can afford."

Price Fixing Suit
The city may be in a position to recover up to $3,600 in damages as the result of a price- fixing suit, City Atty. Richard Steffens told the Council. The

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTERE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTERE at drug counters everywhere.

Purse Reported Taken From Home
NEENAH — A purse contain- ing between $67 and $70 was reported missing from the home of Howard Nelson, 714 Congress St., after his wife returned home shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday

Mrs. Nelson told police they were away from home from 6 p.m. until the time the breaking and entering was reported to police.

Police said entry was made by breaking a window in the rear door.

The bedroom appeared to be the only room ransacked.

Dresser drawers were pulled out and gone through, police said. A metal strong box in the closet was entered.

First check showed nothing missing. Mrs. Nelson called police early this morning stating the purse containing the money was missing.

Bergstrom Report Creates Stir in Financial World

NEENAH — Bergstrom Paper Company's annual report to stockholders has created quite a stir in the financial world. It mixed humor, wit and philosophy with the news of the company's financial situation. The stream of witty prose caused the report to go into its second printing as publicity from financial newspapers roused interest throughout the coun- try.

The Wall Street Journal com- mented "the highly unusual report, which includes generous doses of humor and philosophy, also contains quotations from Churchill, William James, the American Philosopher and Har- ry Emerson Fosdick, former pastor of New York's Riverside Church."

The Philadelphia Bulletin stated the Bergstrom Annual Report "mixes humor and so- cial philosophy with financial matters."

The report was prepared in its "chaty style" through a cooperative effort by company executives, said Bergstrom president H. R. Moore.

Youth Enters Home, Apologizes, Leaves

Youths Admit Window Damage

MENASHA — Police have apprehended three 14-year-old boys in connection with vandal- ism at Clovis Grove School which resulted in over $500 damage.

Holes from BB's in eight bay windows in the front of the school were reported at 7:21 a.m. Tuesday morning by custo- dian Martin Speidel.

The boys admitted shooting bb guns at the windows, police said. They have been referred to juvenile authorities.

Wealthy Red Links China With Macao

Businessman Also Serves Colony as Chief Philanthropist

By RONALD WEI
MACAO (AP) — This tiny Portuguese colony on the South China coast and its giant Communist neighbor use a Chinese capitalist as a go-between in political dealings.
He is Ho Yin, the richest man in Macao and highly respected here as a businessman, philanthropist and educator. He apparently also enjoys the trust and respect of Chinese Communist leaders.

Ho is a member of Red China's People's Political Consultative Conference — an organization whose primary interest is to spread communism among the Chinese overseas and the minority peoples in Red China.

Political Link
Portugal has no political relations with Red China. As the only Chinese on Macao's policy-making Legislative Council, Ho provides a political link.

A ranking Macao official said: "Whenever we have any problems with China, we ask him to help us. For the past 15 years he has done this smoothly, efficiently and gracefully."

Unofficial sources said Ho persuaded the Chinese Communists not to take drastic action against Macao in 1963 when anti-Communist elements used this colony as their center for small-scale sabotage against Red China.

The sources said Ho also was responsible for an agreement under which Red China supplies fresh water to Macao for a token fee.

Smooth Relations
Government officials and prominent businessmen here generally credit the relatively smooth relations to Ho's work during his frequent trips to Peking and Canton.

When this correspondent asked for an interview with Ho, government officials said he never receives newsmen.

Many people here, including staunchly anti-Communist elements, said Ho is not a Communist. He has repeatedly denounced "American imperialism" and echoed Chinese Communist propaganda lines in public.

A non-Communist businessman who knows Ho intimately described him as "a humanitarian and charming person who has a genuine interest of Macao in his heart."

Benefactor
A Roman Catholic priest, in charge of the relief of refugees from Red China, said: "Ho is our great benefactor. He has given us financial help and provided free medical help for the poor regardless of their political affiliation."

Ho's house overlooking this colony's muddy but beautiful harbor is guarded by security men. His first wife died of cancer two years ago. His present wife was a popular folk-song and opera singer.

Church sources said one of Ho's daughters studied in Switzerland and is now in China teaching music.

Inherited Firm
Business men say Ho started his career in Canton as a junior clerk of a money exchange. Ho inherited the money exchange when its owner died.

Ho amassed his fortune through investment and gold trading. At 56 he holds controlling interests in bus and taxi companies, all the 10 movie houses in Macao, two Chinese-language newspapers, five hotels, four banks and a plush greyhound track which helped attract a record number of tourists last year.

Ho also owns five private and high schools with a total enrollment of more than 4,000 students and Macao's biggest and best equipped hospital.

U.S. Joins Pledge Of $1 Billion Aid To Develop India

But Relations Dive to New Low; Nation Miffed Over Trip Delay

BY SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten nations including the United States today pledge $1 billion to India's economic development, although U.S.-Indian relations have plummeted to sub-freezing levels.

Indian diplomatic sources said that Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri will be unable to come to the United States next fall and will defer the visit to Washington until it is convenient for him to do so.

This was the delayed reaction to President Johnson's sudden request last Thursday that Shastri and Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan defer their visits to this country until next fall because Johnson was so occupied with congressional affairs and the problems of Viet Nam.

Highly Critical

Indian officials have been highly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

"President Johnson apparently has had enough of foreigners telling him how to run the world," one diplomat remarked caustically. "The President, it seems, cannot tolerate foreign chiefs of state that he cannot handle like members of the Senate and the House of Representatives."

The Indian reaction was particularly irate because Indians felt that Johnson had asked Shastri not to come because he had been angered by actions of Ayub and felt he would have to treat the leaders of both rival nations equally.

Indian diplomatic sources here said the United States was the only country in the world that pursues a policy of doing to one country as you would do to the other.

An Indian source said the United States apparently thinks that if it gives $1 billion in assistance, it is able to buy friendship, but this is not the case.

Italy's Moro In Second Day Of Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Italian Premier Aldo Moro holds a second round of conferences today with top U.S. officials.

First, he plans to pay tribute to two American presidents — George Washington and John F. Kennedy.

The Italian leader, on his first visit here, has scheduled visits to Arlington National Cemetery, where he will lay wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknowns and the grave of Kennedy. Then his party goes to Mount Vernon to visit Washington's grave.

Moro's first scheduled meeting was with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, just back from a trip to Hawaii to map U.S. plans for the war in Viet Nam.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to honor Moro at a luncheon. Then the 48-year-old Premier was to hold a second White House talk with President Johnson before issuance of a joint U.S.-Italian communique.

Shastri Demands U. S. Halt Viet Nam Attacks

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri renewed Tuesday night his demand that the United States stop air attacks on North Viet Nam. This was interpreted as Shastri's way of standing up to President Johnson because Johnson asked him to postpone his visit to Washington.

Shastri told a reception of the Indian-Soviet Cultural Society that a halt in the bombing was necessary to create the atmosphere needed for peace talks. If the bombing continues, he said, Johnson's acceptance of the nonaligned nations' proposal for unconditional talks is pointless.

Test Slated In Landing Of Spacecraft

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The system that could bring American astronauts back down on land is to undergo a test today.

Manned Spacecraft Center engineers from Houston will attempt to guide a dummy Gemini spacecraft to a pinpoint landing at this central Texas army post with a device called the parasail.

Engineer Lee Norman said the system, consists of a parachute and braking rockets.

The system, put together with surplus and junk pile spare parts, cost about $800,000, he said. This compares with the parajumper, a winglike device also for setting down on land, which cost the United States more than $30 million before it was abandoned.

Engineers started developing the parasail two years ago. After several successful tests in Galveston Bay the retrorockets were added. These slowed the descending capsule from a speed of 27 feet per second to a soft 9 feet.

Two tests using the braking rockets in the bay proved successful. Engineers decided to try their creation over land.

Giant Bomber Flies 1,500 m.p.h. in Test

EDWARD AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The giant XB70A experimental bomber reached 59,000-foot altitude and 1,500-mile-an-hour speed Tuesday on its highest and fastest flight to date.

The craft is designed for a top speed of 2,000 miles an hour and more than 70,000 feet altitude.

The hour and 42-minute flight raised the plane's total time in 10 flights to 12 hours, 55 minutes.

Narcotics Chief, Miami Police Are Arrested

Federal, City Officials Accused Of Taking Bribes

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — The chief federal narcotics agent in Miami and two of the city's police vice squad officers have been charged with accepting a bribe from a dope peddler who complained he was paying $2,000 a month in protection money.

The arrests were made Tuesday by city police and a team of Federal Narcotics Bureau agents at the home of an admitted narcotics operator after the trio was said to have accepted $130 in marked money.

The three were charged with accepting a bribe, a felony under Florida law, and released on their personal bond. They are Eugene J. Marshall, 39, head of the U.S. Narcotics Bureau for southeastern Florida, police Sgt. Frank Fountain, 39, second in command of the city's vice squad, and his assistant, Roosevelt Tremble, 34, a plainclothes detective.

Police Chief Walter Headley said the arrests climaxed a week of investigation. It started when the dope peddler complained to police about the protection money he said he was forced to pay.

State Senate Okays Bill To Vary Rule on Minor Driver Consent

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate gave approval Monday to a bill that would allow either parent to sign an application for a minor under 18 applying for a driver's license.

Present law permits only the father to sign the application, unless the child is in custody of the mother.

Two other proposals relating to village officers were passed by voice votes. One would allow a member of a town board or village council to be certified to temporarily replace a chairman or president if either is unable to attend a meeting do to illness or accident.

The other, already approved by the Assembly, would permit village offices to be filled either by appointment or at a special Johnson's acceptance of the nonaligned nations' proposal for unconditional talks is pointless.

Labor, Steel Industry Reported Far Apart

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The basic steel industry and the United Steelworkers — reported still far apart — resume contract bargaining today under the pressure of an upcoming union meeting that could produce some decisive action.

Informed sources said the industry rejected Tuesday as too costly a union offer to extend the present contract beyond the May 1 deadline for an 18-cent-an-hour pay hike. The union last week turned down an industry offer of a five-cent hourly raise.

"The disagreement is of such magnitude the parties aren't even in speaking distance of each other," said a source close to the negotiations.

Thursday Meeting

Lending urgency to today's negotiations is a meeting Thursday of the USW's wage policy committee, which has the final word on contract matters. The committee can authorize a strike or an extension of the present pact.

One source said, "my guess is that if there's no change the committee will be given a review and asked to give strike authorization."

The union several times has rejected industry proposals for an extension of the bargaining — suspended for two months because of the union's still unsettled presidential election.

Union Demand

The union is said to want an increase of about 14 cents an hour in wages or benefits plus 4 cents an hour in "catch up" money, which the USW feels steelworkers missed in the last two contracts.

The union demand is based on a 3.2 per cent annual productivity guideline recommended by the President's Council of Economic Advisors, which takes

Can't Resist Escape

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — An unquenchable desire to escape turned a 30-day jail sentence into several years behind bars for Douglas Neal.

Neal, 32, drew the minor sentence as a prowler in 1960 in Atlanta. Today, five years and four months later, he is still in jail because he can't resist the urge to break out.

Neal served 20 days of his original sentence before escaping. An Atlanta judge sentenced him to one year after his capture.

He fled again and this time was sentenced in an Atlanta court to five years.

Last summer, Neal had less than a year to serve on his five-year term when he and two other prisoners escaped a work gang in a stolen dump truck. They were recaptured and that led to his latest sentencing by Judge C. Wesley Killebrew in Richmond County Superior Court.

"Why in the world did you escape again when your time was so near up?" the judge asked.

"I just got that old liquor in my head, judge," Neal replied.

The startled judge asked where Neal had acquired liquor.

Neal said he and two other prisoners had bought two pints of liquor at a service station. He said they were wearing their prison uniforms.

"I didn't pursue this line of questioning," said the judge Tuesday night. "I figure it wasn't up to me to find out how they got it wearing prison uniforms."

"I told Neal, 'You just can't seem to sit still, can you?'" Killebrew said. "He didn't have an answer for that one."

Fight to Final Bell

AMA Will Continue Battle Over Medicare

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Association, victor in all its previous battles against compulsory health insurance, plans to carry its fight to the final bell against the Johnson administration's health care for the aged bill.

"We will testify before the Senate Finance Committee against the medicare bill," Dr. E.B. Howard, assistant executive vice president of the AMA said today. "We still feel the eldercare bill is superior to this one."

The health care bill backed by the Johnson administration passed the House earlier this month by a 313-115 vote. It is now before the Senate. The House Ways and Means Committee, which approved the medicare bill, did not consider the rival AMA-backed eldercare bill.

Committee Rapped

Dr. Donovan F. Ward, AMA president, criticized the House committee for tying in what he termed a "justified increase" in Social Security cash retirement benefits with the health care legislation. He also criticized the committee for failing to consider the eldercare program.

He said that the health care program would "centralize control over many aspects of the practice of medicine in a federal bureaucracy" and result in poorer health care for all American people.

Perfect Companions to Spring Fever:

Strawberry Parfait Pie . . . Chocolate Wafer Crust

Pie 'n' Coffee

By Lillian Mackesy

Post-Crescent Food Editor

These are spring fever days . . . the kind that make one yearn to linger out of doors in the warming sunshine . . . the kind that turns one's thought to backyard barbecues, picnics, daffodils and tulips and just plain enjoyment of the weather. These are the days that make some energetic homemakers start shaking rugs and polishing windows . . . but others respond to a lazier mood and welcome conversation with equally negligent friends.

This is the season of the kaffeeklatsch when an elegant slice of homemade pie goes extremely well with the talk and the steaming cups of coffee. Even the busy housewife enjoys a break in her routine of spring cleaning, welcoming a fragrant cup of coffee with a glamorous wedge of pie.

Just made for those smitten with spring fever are these recipes for pies. They are wonderful pies with the chiffon touch to match the lushness of spring that's just around the corner. Each one has a different kind of crust to make them all very special so that they represent a handsome collection of pies for company showing-off . . . another symptom of spring fever.

There's the Lemon chiffon Pie, delicate and light in a pastry shell . . . there's the rich Coffee Fudge Pie with its graham cracker crumb crust. The Rhubarb-Capped Cheese Pie boasts a crust of finely rolled Zwieback crumbs . . . the Strawberry Parfait is served in a crust made of chocolate cookie crumbs . . . and the Apricot Pie uses honey graham crumbs for its cracker crumb crust.

Try them all . . . they're worth it.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

- 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 lemon, juiced and grated peel
- 1 large can evaporated milk
- 1 baked pastry shell (9-inch)

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add sugar, lemon juice and peel. Stir until sugar dissolves. Chill until syrupy. Pour evaporated milk into freezer tray; freeze until ice crystals form around edges; whip until stiff enough to mound. Fold lemon mixture and whipped evaporated milk together thoroughly. Spoon into pastry shell, mounding high in center. Chill until firm.

COFFEE FUDGE PIE

- 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs, fine
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup flaked coconut
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 8 ounces sweet chocolate, broken into pieces
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup light cream
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin

- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 tablespoons instant coffee
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- Cinnamon-sugar (optional)

Blend together graham cracker crumbs, quarter-cup sugar, coconut, and butter. Press firmly against bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. (The easy way is to use an 8-inch pan for the pressing.) Bake in a 375-degree oven for 8 minutes. Cool.

In top of double boiler, combine chocolate, two tablespoons sugar and cream. Heat over hot water until chocolate has melted and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat. Blend in slightly beaten egg yolks and vanilla. Cool slightly, stirring occasionally. Pour into crust. Allow to set.

Soften gelatin in water; stir in instant coffee. Place container in pan of hot water and stir until gelatin is dissolved completely. Cool. Beat egg whites until foamy, then beat in half-cup sugar; continue beating until stiff peaks form. Gradually beat in cooled gelatin mixture. Fold in sour cream. Spoon over top of chocolate filling.

If desired, cinnamon-sugar (half and half mixture) may be

Must See Mistakes To Improve
BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
The beginning of wisdom at the bridge table is to recognize your mistakes. When South played today's hand it never occurred to him that he had made a mistake; when the same sort of hand comes along again, he will make the same mistake.

the king. East returned the queen of hearts, holding the trick, and continued with the jack of hearts.
South took the ace of hearts and ran all six trumps, hoping for a favorable discard. His trouble was that after cashing the queen of diamonds he could not get to dummy to cash the ace of diamonds.
South's trumps caused no trouble. West saved two diamonds and two clubs, and East saved the good hearts. South eventually gave up two more heart tricks, losing his game contract.

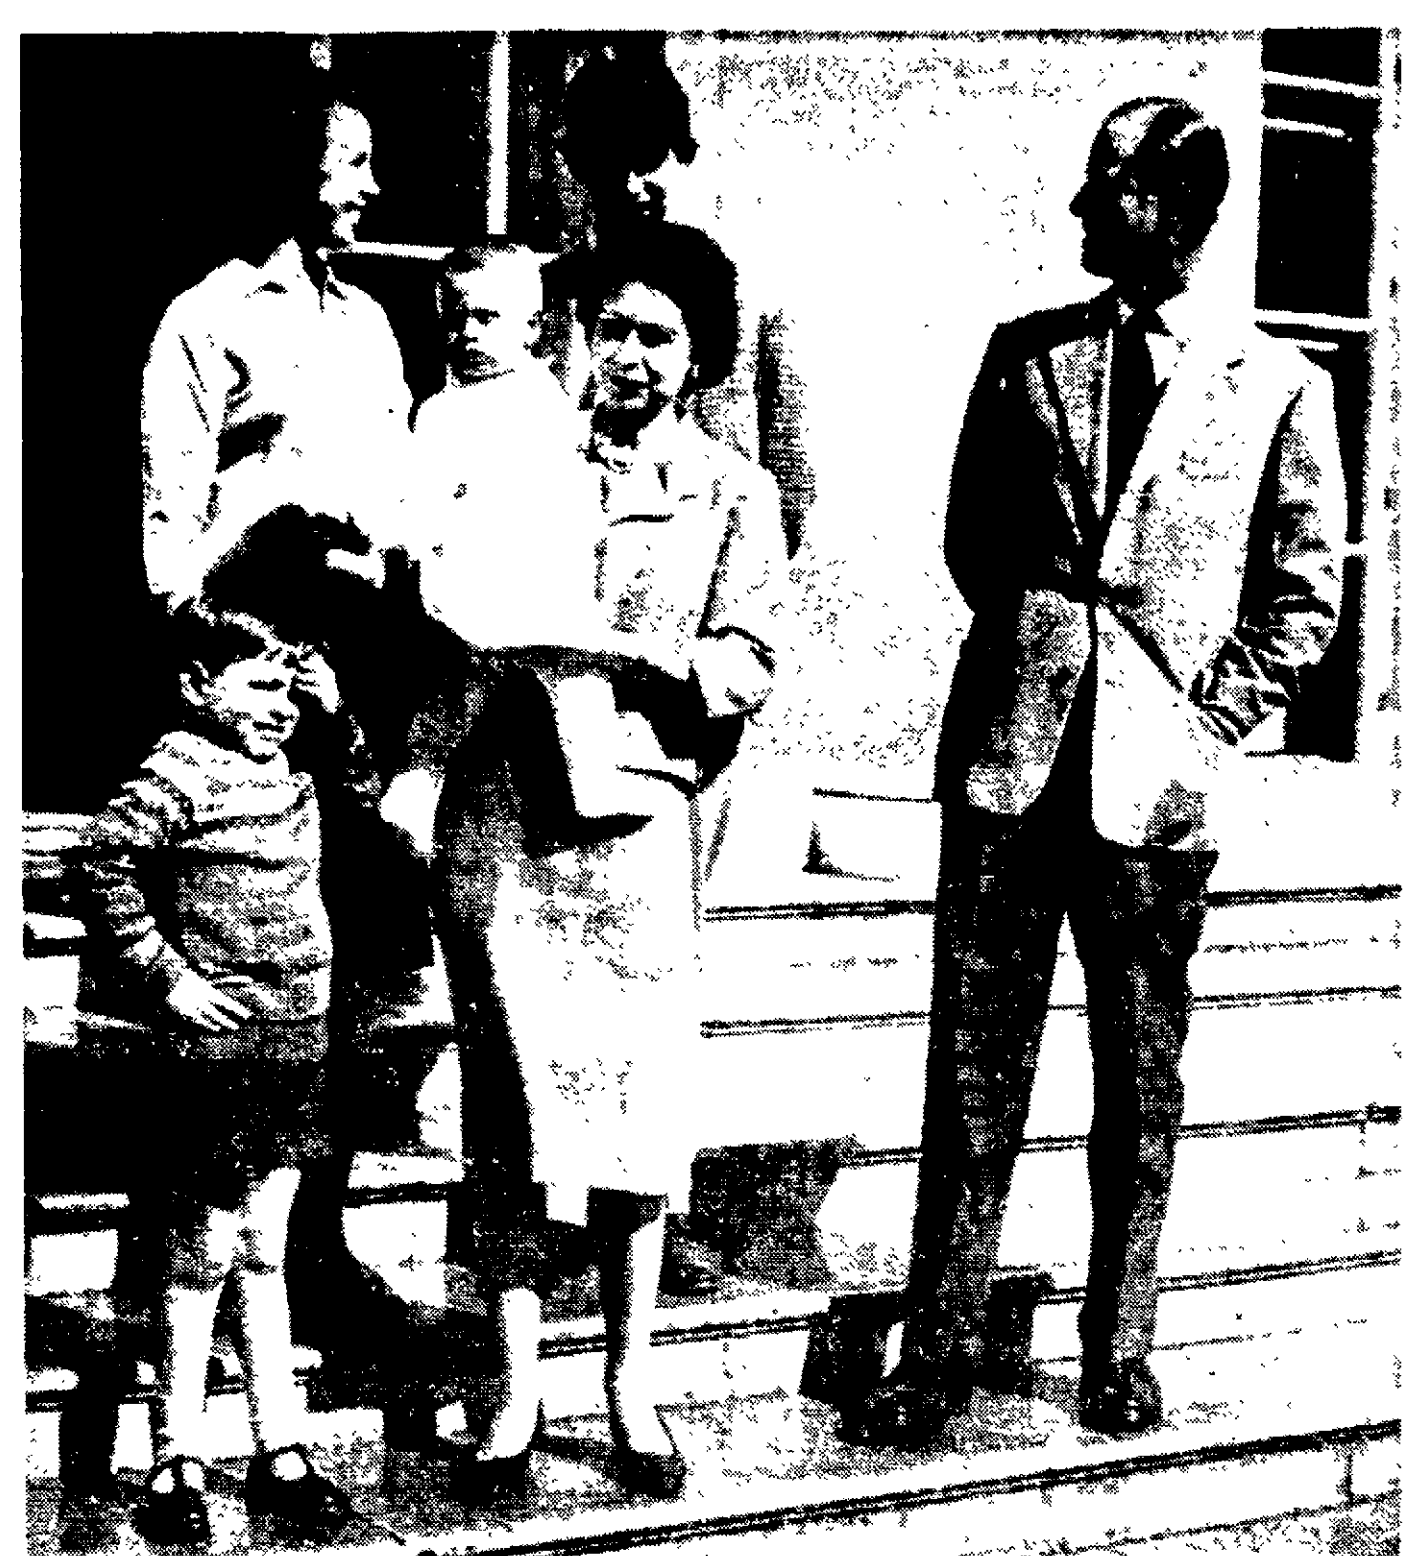

Early Mistake
South made his mistake early — at the first play from his own hand. He should drop the queen of diamonds when East wins the first trick with the king.
South intends to duck two rounds of hearts and draw trumps. Then he can cash the ace of hearts to find out whether or not the missing six hearts break 3-3. When the dependable for the ceremonial hearts fail to break. South can then drop the colors. But flags lead his low diamond and try a few from public buildings in the finesse with dummy's nine. as his tenth trick.
Remember this unblocking paper public to a rare show for play when the jack is led her birthday.
If you drop the queen, you can later try a finesse with the nine. This isn't necessary if dummy has an ample supply of fast entries; it is then safer to save your queen for an early trick and reach dummy in another suit to cash the ace later. You need the unblocking play when dummy is short of outside entries.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold: S 3 2, H 4 3 2, D A 9 5 3, C Q 8 7 5. What do you say?
Answer: Bid two clubs. Since you have 6 points in high cards, the hand is worth a response. The raise is more descriptive than a bid of one diamond.

Queen Marks Birthday With Family

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II celebrated her 39th birthday today in the privacy of Windsor Castle with her family.
Public celebration of the birthday will come in June, when London's weather is more favorable for the ceremonial processions. Plaster Applied to Brick Wall

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
Q I would like to plaster a brick wall in the basement that is crumbling. What should I wash it down with before plastering? Is there anything else I should do first?

A: Plaster should not be put directly on masonry, because it acquires the cooler masonry the temperature, causing condensation to form. The resulting dampness will result in plaster cracking and eventually falling off. Either use a masonry paint or build a false wall, on one-inch furring strips, or paneling (moisture-resistant plaster-board, plywood, etc.), which provides an insulating dead air space.

Entire Family Should be Given Tetanus Protection

Are you and your family start early, one and a half to two months after birth, for the scrapes and falls of childhood, offer tetanus many opportunities. In children, as well as adults, immunity is initiated by a series of three shots, spaced over eight weeks, and followed by a booster dose within six to twelve months.
Don't take a chance with tetanus. Call your doctor and make an appointment to have your family immunized.

While millions of babies and members of the armed forces have been inoculated against tetanus, the fact remains that about three-fourths of the adult population is lacking in immunity. The protection offered by immunization wears off after a few years and must be re-established by booster shots, which most people fail to get.

Deadly Poison
Once they enter the body, tetanus spores hatch into tiny, microscopic bacteria, which begin to multiply. In the process, they liberate one of the deadliest of all poisons which attacks the nerve centers causing convulsions and muscle spasms, some so severe that victims have been known to fracture a vertebra.
Usually the first nerves affected are those of the head and neck which control the chewing muscles. These turn rigid with spasm, giving the disease its familiar name, lockjaw.
In a clean, free-bleeding cut tetanus spores usually are washed out. Or if they do sprout into bacteria, the microorganism is destroyed by oxygen in the blood. But when blood flow is slight, as in a deep puncture from stepping on a nail or in crushing wounds, or when the spores are insulated by imbedded dirt and debris, the bacteria may gain a deadly foothold within the body. This is because tetanus bacteria thrive in the absence of air.

No Medication
No antibiotic or other drug can halt a full-blown case, and about 60 per cent of those afflicted by the disease die. By means of immunization, tetanus is almost completely preventable. Protection should

A Needle and Thread Winter

All winter-long they stitched and sewed, fitted and hemmed. Monday evening at the Village hall they had the right to show off a little. Women who participated in sewing classes at the Little Chute Vocational School had their dresses and suits displayed at a program that included 50 models. Special guests were the village president and town trustees. The program was open to the public. Mrs. Josephine Toben was sewing instructor. The Vanettes provided entertainment at the event.

A Spring Suit and Matching Hat were made by Miss Jean Fleming in the intermediate sewing group. The women's sewing accomplishments were modeled at Monday evening's show in Little Chute. (Post-Crescent Photos)

70-Year-Old Widow Thinks Her Problems Maybe Wackiest

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: For a long time I have gotten a lot of laughs out of the wacky people who have written to you. Now perhaps I am the wackiest one of all.
I am in the middle 70's and have been a widow for many years. I am in good health, and have always been considered a pretty woman. After my husband passed away I did not believe I could ever love again. Two months ago I fell absolutely mad, crazy in love. I want to marry this man but I'm afraid the feeling is not mutual. If it were, he'd be begging me to marry him (and he is not). The man is my age and we don't have too many years left. We are keeping our affair a secret at his request. Please tell this silly old woman what to do. —Ashamed of Myself

Dear Ashamed: The second from the last sentence in your letter is the tip-off. Why would a man in his middle 70's wish to keep his interest in a woman a secret? Surely he is not afraid of his parents.

Unless your friend is willing to take you out publicly and treat you with respect and dignity, tell him to go wear out someone else's upholstery.
Dear Helpless: Guests who show up an hour early are as cloddish as those who show up an hour late. Of course, you must let them in, but you don't have to entertain them. Tell them they are very early and excuse yourself. Take your own sweet time about getting dressed or doing whatever needs to be done. Appear in the living room at precisely "party time" — and make no apologies.
Parents are people — they can be right and they can be wrong. To help understand their viewpoint and to promote harmony at home, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Diamond Doubly Serves British Queen Elizabeth

Queen Elizabeth, whose thirty-ninth birthday is today, probably has more jewelry with her "a bit much" if she wore as much diamond birthstone than any woman. She realized that, while she views herself close up in a mirror, onlookers are usually hundreds of yards away; so she consented to combine more and larger jewels.
Out of her vast array of personal jewels, she has a few favorites that she wears often. A favorite tiara, for instance, is the 'Fairy Queen' which seems to travel with her everywhere. It sparkles with beautiful diamonds set in a light but lacy design of the fleur de lis and rosebuds.
On her eighteenth birthday, her parents gave her a delicate wristwatch of "honeycomb" gold mesh, set with diamonds, which she still wears today. Some of her jewels have been official gifts, such as diamond flame lily brooch from Rhodesia. What she fondly refers to as her "birthday necklace" was given to her at Cape Town by the government when she was 21. An opera-length strand of graduated round diamonds, it has a detachable center diamond of six carats.
For a wedding gift, Prince Philip designed a bracelet for her. Made of gold, it shows the diamond initials E and P entwined with tiny diamond roses and a naval emblem. She often wears this and a sapphire-centered daisy brooch whose 21 diamond petals count out to, "He loves me." Perhaps because she knows this is true, she usually wears only two rings. One is her plain gold wedding band, hammered from topped by a diamond cross, symbolizing the world dominated by Christianity.
Elizabeth's personal jewelry, all her own property, is so extensive that it has been catalogued in several blue leather-bound volumes. Despite this, her taste is simple. When she first became Queen, the Court Jewellers fussed that she

Jobless Adman Made Fortune In Silly Putty

WW II Synthetic Left Peter Hodgson No Longer Broke

BY CHARLES WEST
NEW YORK (AP) — Lest it be overlooked in the rush of world events, this Easter season is the 15th anniversary of the introduction of a chemical curiosity that has bounced its way around the globe.
It was discovered as a by-product of the government's effort to create synthetic rubber during World War II. And it was useless — useless, that is, until a flat-broke advertising and marketing specialist came across it.
The specialist, Peter Hodgson, 48, named it silly putty. He is no longer flat broke.
Hodgson made the pink substance into a multimillion-dollar adult toy which soon found its best market among children.
It also has broken up boring Wall Street meetings, and de-lighted Muscovites at a U. S. plastics exhibit behind the Iron Curtain.
Its public acceptance can be seen not only in the sales charts, but also in the way silly putty has worked itself into the language. In just the last month prominent writers have used the name to describe a prize-fighter's body, a comedian's face and an actor's performance.
Silly putty came into being in 1944. James Wright, an engineer working in General Electric's New Haven, Conn., laboratory, tossed a handful of boric acid into some silicone oil, a liquid refined from sand. The gooey result bounced when he tossed it on the floor, but failed as a substitute for rubber.
Nevertheless, it remained around for years, a conversation piece and plaything for Wright's friends and professional colleagues, mainly for its seemingly contradictory qualities.
It can be stretched or molded; balled up, it will bounce; struck suddenly with a hammer, it will shatter; flattened out, it will pick up pictures from a comic book; left alone, it will flow slower than molasses into a tired puddle.
Hodgson, born in Montreal, and raised in Norfolk, Va., had been a seaman, advertising copy writer, marketing consultant, wartime railroad troop traffic manager and magazine research director. But he was broke and jobless when he found his gold mine.
Working in a basement with a Yale student as a helper, Hodgson had to borrow $147.50 to pay for the first shipment of the substance. He put small amounts of silly putty into toy plastic eggs retailing for $1 and got them onto the national market.
Within six months, 30 Yale students were helping Hodgson crate the orders and he was counting a clear profit of $10,000.
Now 125 employees help him in a $6-million annual business. In addition to the New Haven plant, there is a subsidiary operation in Canada. He is negotiating to open others this year in Japan and West Germany and just received an inquiry about a possible plant in Mexico.
And the once flat-broke advertising man relaxes on an 88-acre hilltop at Madison, Conn., with a swimming pool, tennis court and an old farm house 400 feet above the Long Island Sound boasting a view stretching almost from Orient Point to Oyster Bay.
"I can trace most everything I have to silly putty," said Hodgson, pleased.

Committee Cuts Share of Social Security

MADISON (AP)—Local school districts received a blow when the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee voted to decrease by $1,218,000 the state's share of social security payments by non-state employed teachers.
The committee, in executive session on Gov. Warren P. Knowles' $832 million budget for the 1965-67 biennium, took the action Tuesday on a 6-4 vote.
Assemblyman David Obey, D-Wausau, made the motion to cut out the state's share in anticipation of increased rates on a higher salary base that would occur if Congress passes the medicare bill.
If the bill passes and the Legislature upholds the committee's recommendation, local school districts would have to make up the $1.2 million difference. The state would continue to pay the employers' share of social security payments on the expected higher rate, but only on the current salary base.
The cut brings to a total of $2.3 million in reductions the committee has recommended on the governor's budget.
The committee also approved without change the $32.9 million state building program that Knowles had recommended.

Not Full Picture

Only Part of Johnson Has Been Shown So Far

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson has now served the first three months of his full presidential term and it hasn't been long enough to get a rounded picture of him.
Only part of him, like an iceberg, has been visible so far. His policies and tactics at home are clear enough. His foreign policy isn't.
His success at home, at least with Congress, has been astonishing. The same can't be said of his dealings abroad, if only because there hasn't been enough of them, although they could turn out that way.
In foreign policy he could effort to create the toughest president in years.
What he did in foreign affairs between the time he succeeded President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963, and when he was sworn in on his own last Jan. 20 can't be taken as a yardstick.
Played It Cool
In that period he played it cool, quiet and cautious. He had no real crisis, there was an election coming, and he wasn't to supply the opposition with ammunition.
Then, within a month after beginning his own four-year term, he made a very tough decision.
This was his order last Feb. 7.

to bomb Communist North Vietnam. And, refusing to yield to criticism, he has kept the bombing going ever since, even though it could lead to conflict with the Soviet Union and Red China.
Since no other problem in the past three months has required such drastic action, this one example is not enough evidence on which to build a case for a hard-nosed man in the White House.
It's hard to say whether he was being tough or just rough in the way he recently handled the prime minister of India and the president of Pakistan, both of whom were to visit here soon.
He canceled their visits so abruptly that The Associated Press reported from India that the prime minister was deemed publicly disgraced. The reason? The White House said Johnson was going to be too busy with Viet Nam and Congress to receive the two visitors who are next-door neighbors in Asia, but not friendly ones.
But the AP reported from India it is generally believed there that Johnson did what he did to show his displeasure with India and Pakistan, both of whom have received U.S. aid, for their criticism of this country.
Johnson's action undoubtedly reflects the feelings of many Americans who are getting fed up seeing the United States lambasted by countries which have had their hands out for U.S. help.
Meek Nursemaid
History may decide that the United States, in playing meek nursemaid to countries it hoped to keep away from communism with American aid, pursued far too long a policy far too soft and injurious to itself.
The other side of the coin, of course, is the fact that since World War II no country has voluntarily adopted communism and that in the intervening years the solid front of communism itself has been shattered.
But if Johnson acted hurriedly out of irritation with India and Pakistan, this was not a policy at all but an impulse, leaving Viet Nam as the only sign of a new, tough American attitude in these past three months.
At home Johnson has used the velvet glove but with one big exception in which he got do-mestically tough, too: this was in getting far tougher than any of his predecessors in demand-ing equal rights for Negroes.
With Congress Johnson has worked day and night, always without visible conflict, pushing, pulling, pressuring, phoning, entertaining, urging, demand-ing, and always with steady progress and success.

$16 Million Program Set

Nekoosa-Edwards To Start Move to Expand, Remodel

Shareowners of Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards, learned of a $16 million expansion and improvement program scheduled for 1965 and 1966 as president Sam Casey described anticipated growth for business communication and printing papers and reported one of the best quarters in the history of the company at the paper manufacturer's 58th annual meeting in Port Edwards.
"Key aspects of the expansion program," Casey explained, "will be the maximizing of the present pump production to increase output by about 90 tons daily and the installation of a new newspaper machine to be completed by mid-1966. The new machine will replace an older machine at Port Edwards.
Annual production at the Whit-ing-Plover mill will be increased substantially as updating of the facility progresses through 1965."

University Challenges Comics | Appleton Man on Lawrence Recital Program Friday

STEVENS POINT (AP)—Stevens Point State University has set out to challenge the comic books as youth's source of information on the aerospace age.

The state's first Aerospace Instructional Materials Center opened Thursday with an inspection by members of the State Aerospace Education Committee. It was the first anniversary for the committee, the last to be established in the Great Lakes states.

The center offers books, pamphlets, films, model kits and hundreds of other items for all grade levels that teachers can use in their classrooms. Included are two booklets from the Russian Embassy telling of Soviet spacemen and their achievements.

Can't Keep Up

"The plight of the teachers is that they often can't keep up with flight as well as the grade school youngsters they teach," said Burdette Eagon, dean of the school of education at the university.

"A few teachers keep up," he said, "but most are of the automobile generation while their pupils are in the air age. Too many teachers have never flown."

The teachers he continued are easier to bring into the aerospace field than the local school boards who shy away partly because of the expense of new materials.

Harry Chaplin, a member of the aerospace education committee and manager of the Sheboygan airport said "Unless we give them aerospace education starting at their local airports and ending at the moon or beyond Wisconsin will have a generation of aerospace illiterates."

A University of Wisconsin student committee to Support the People of South Vietnam is busy signing new members. The movement originated after students demonstrated on behalf of the United States' withdrawal from Asia. Signing up for the campaign are David Fronek, Antigo, 1965 football team captain; Richard C. New Type Phone Bill To be Mailed

Because of a modernization program resulting in improved bill processing, Appleton area residents will receive a new type of telephone bill, according to R. C. Van Sistine, local manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Company.

The familiar bill stub which customers have formerly returned with their remittance to the company will no longer be used. In its place, a new punched card is enclosed with monthly statements and will be used in crediting payments to customers' accounts.

"These punched cards are prepared and processed at our company's accounting center in Oshkosh," said Van Sistine. "A return mail envelope addressed to the center is included with each regular monthly statement."

Van Sistine pointed out that customers will still be able to pay their bills in person at the local business office if they prefer.

"In addition to faster and more efficient processing," Van Sistine added, "the new method produces extremely accurate billing. As a by-product of the new system, customers will be able to obtain more account information with minimum delay."

Low price put America on wheels

TOTAL SAVINGS PROGRAM

When Henry Ford marketed his famous "Model T" it was an immediate success, and for good reason. It was a no nonsense car, completely reliable, without frills, and low priced. Because of high volume sales, good quality, and efficient distribution, soon all of America was able to afford this "working man's gas buggy." The buggy on wheels at your Treasure Island Supermarket is a 1965 counterpart of the famous tin lizzy. It represents Treasure Island's Total Savings Program — a program very similar, in many ways, to Henry Ford's concept of mass merchandising.

There are no frills such as trading stamps, coupons, or "come-on specials." Prices remain low on each and every item seven days a week as a result of high volume sales and efficient store operation. All merchandise is unconditionally guaranteed, to be top quality, so you can buy with complete confidence. An average size family can save from $5.00 to $200.00 per year and more, thanks to Treasure Island's Total Savings Program. Pacifists Can Mislead Enemy, Bring on War

American Policy May Appear to be Lacking in Support

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With the best intentions in the world, pacifists sometimes bring on the very war to which they proclaim their opposition. Unwittingly they give aid and comfort to an enemy country and serve to increase the possibility that American policy will be misconstrued abroad as being unsupported by public opinion. Then chances will be taken by an adversary which could lead to war.

An example of the consequences of this misguided attitude on the part of Americans is furnished in the following

Lawrence

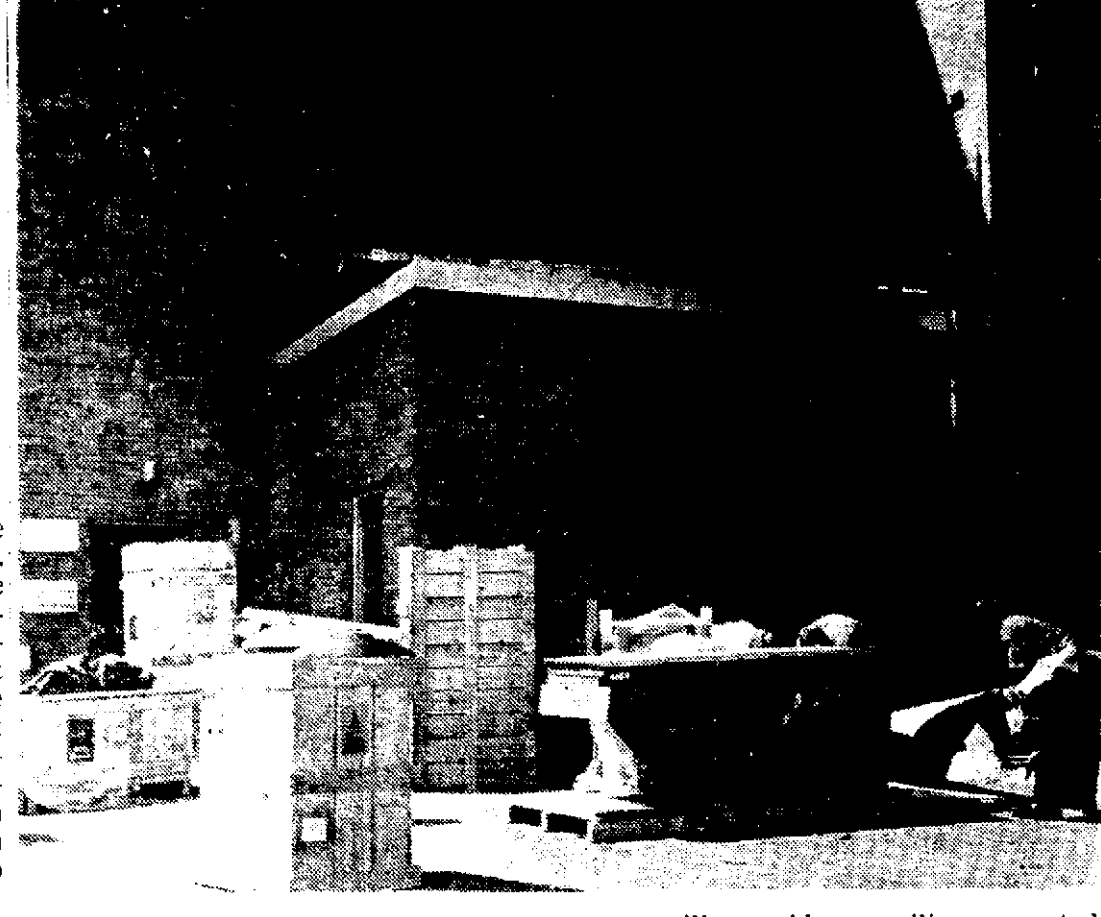

UPI dispatch from the Far East a few days ago:

"American protests and demonstrations against U. S. policy in Viet Nam have gotten a warm reception in Communist North Viet Nam and Communist China.

"Hanoi's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, and China's New China News Agency devote almost daily space to the petitions, advertisements, picketing and demonstrations of Americans against U. S. policy. "Nhan Dan, in a commentary today, said, 'The thousands strong parade of American people held in New York on April 10 strikes a new note to the American people's determination to check the U. S. imperialist's dirty war against Viet Nam.'"

Present Danger

The danger at the moment is that the Red Chinese as well as the Soviets will get the impression that the American people are divided and that the pacifistic urge is dominant to Congress to initiate American such an extent that all the strong words of President Johnson can be regarded abroad as not reflecting the true American

Part of the Building Program at Appleton Memorial Hospital reached the completion stage as workmen prepared to install equipment for one of the five new diagnostic X-ray rooms. The equip-sentiment if a showdown comes. Twice in the last half-century well-meaning senators have unwittingly helped to weaken the American position. On both occasions the German governments in power were led to believe that the United States would not become involved in the conflict. Two world wars ensued, and the United States was obliged to enter both in self-defense.

Although President Wilson had severed diplomatic relations with the Kaiser's government in Germany Feb. 3, 1917, and had protested the sinking of unarmed passenger vessels with the loss of many American lives, "a little group of willful men" in the United States Senate — as Mr. Wilson characterized them — filibustered to death a proposal that the United States arm its vessels in protection against German submarines. Many historians believe that this particular debacle — on March 4, 1917 — strengthened the determination of the Berlin regime to wage unrestricted submarine warfare against American passenger ships on the theory that the United States was divided and would not enter the war. A few weeks later — on April 2, 1917 — the President of the United States found it necessary to appear before a special session of Congress to initiate American entry into World War I.

Denied Authority

Somewhat the same circumstances occurred when President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress to give him authority to sell arms to Western Europe. He was refused permission by the United States Senate, as Congress adjourned Aug. 5, 1939, without even acting on his request. This led to the belief in Berlin that the United States would not enter the conflict, and World War II came less than a month later.

Policy Backed

The resolution says in part: "Consonant with the Constitution of the United States and the charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligations under the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty, the United States is, therefore, prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty requesting assistance in defense of its freedom."

This is, therefore, American foreign policy, not only made by the executive branch of the government but supported by the overwhelming vote of both houses of Congress.

Individual senators and representatives have every right to express themselves on any subject, but the net effect of the stand being taken today by some of them against American policy in Viet Nam could be disastrous. This attitude could mislead the enemy into a belief that drastic steps can be risked by its forces on the theory that American opinion would not sustain a decisive response. Instead of preventing a war, this could bring on a major conflict.

Confusion Cleared Up On Dollar Flow Curb

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In the "developed" country of Monaco in Europe, our government is now asking U.S. banks to curb the outflow of dollars for loans and U.S. businessmen to earn more dollars to bring home.

In the "developing" country of Mexico in Latin America, our government is asking U.S. banks to place the "highest

This question is: What countries are the "targets" of President Johnson's plea for restraint on the net outflow of dollars until we can dry up the red ink in our balance of payments?

Many businessmen and bankers believe the request for voluntary curbs on the net outflow of dollars applies to all countries. This is not so.

Many travelers think the drive to close the huge gap between what U.S. tourists spend overseas and what foreign tourists spend here implies that they should not travel outside our borders. This is unadulterated nonsense.

Basic Facts Here are five basic facts to guide you—as a businessman, banker, an investor, a tourist.

(1) The "targets" are 27 so-called developed countries. These 27 are: Australia, Austria, Bahamas, Belgium, Bermuda, Canada, Denmark, France, West Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Kuwait, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Monaco, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Republic of South Africa, San Marino, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom.

(2) Of these, several are "special cases" with special exemptions. For instance, our government is not asking cutbacks in direct business investment in Canada. All we want our corporations to do is to spend abroad and what we earn "surplus" dollars on a short-term basis to Canada which then may be "leaked" elsewhere.

Some Confusion Since it was announced Feb. 10, the U.S. Government's voluntary program to narrow the dangerous gap between what we spend abroad and what we earn "surplus" dollars on a short-term basis to Canada which then may be "leaked" elsewhere.

Porter

priority" on loans and U.S. businessmen to increase their spending of dollars to build and expand private enterprises.

In the Spanish-speaking city of Granada overseas, our government is urging U.S. tourists to restrain their fun and gift spending for a while.

In the Spanish-speaking city of Guadalajara south of our border, our government is urging U. S. tourists to continue spending as freely as they have been.

Some Confusion Since it was announced Feb. 10, the U.S. Government's voluntary program to narrow the dangerous gap between what we spend abroad and what we earn "surplus" dollars on a short-term basis to Canada which then may be "leaked" elsewhere.

(3) Our targets are definitely not the developing countries of the free world—and this particularly applies to Latin America. "We are continuing to encourage private direct investment in the less developed countries," emphasizes Commerce Secretary Connor. "We are determined to continue policies which help raise living standards and help improve the economic vitality of countries such as those in Latin America. Banks have been requested to give the highest priority to loans to less developed countries."

Flat "Yes"

When I asked Connor, whether this special treatment applies to such booming nations as Mexico, his answer was a flat "yes."

(4) The definitions of a "developed" versus a "developing" country are exceedingly hazy—combine economic, financial, political, diplomatic factors. Obvious yardsticks are a nation's per capita income and its rate of economic growth.

Other yardsticks are whether the country has large resources of dollars and gold to call on and whether it has been enjoying "privileged" access to our money markets to borrow dollars at favorable interest costs. Still another consideration is whether the country has been a "transit point" through which dollars escape to other countries. The above crazy-quilt list of "developed" countries underlines how many factors are involved in the classifications.

(5) Actually, our government hopes that one result of the voluntary balance of payments program will be a shift in U.S. spending from the developed, dollar-rich countries of Europe to the under-developed, dollar-hungry countries in such areas as Latin America.

Fox Cities Hurling to be Strong

Foxes Play WSU-O Friday

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Strong pitching will again be the feature of the Fox Cities this season General Manager Ralph Mueller told the Kiwanis Club at the Conway Hotel this noon.

"We cannot expect to have a team as good as the 1964 champions every year", Mueller went on. "I still think this will be a first division club and maybe better if some of the first year players come through, it could be a contender."

He went on to point out that such first-year players as Tom Zink, Fred Rico, Steve Huntz, "Sparky" Lyie and Fred Beene, came through in fine style last summer. This year the Foxes are counting on Keith Thompson, Bruce Johns, Bob Kowalske and Dick Tarlton.

Mueller told the Kiwanians that one of the Foxes' real sleepers could be pitcher Emmanuel Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald saw only limited action at Bluefield last year — and this was on purpose. Oriole officials held him out so as scouts would not see too much of him and scoop him up in the first-year draft.

Five of the Foxes arrived in Appleton Tuesday. They were Mike Gannon, Dick Tarlton, Emmanuel Fitzgerald, Elmore Hill and Pat Lutz. Gannon was here in 1964, but missed most of the season due to a knee operation. He had a fine spring and indications are that the operation was a success.

The remaining 15 members of the team and Manager Billy DeMars were slated to arrive today. The team will be introduced at the annual 'Welcome Home Banquet' at 6:30 p.m. Thursday night at the Elks Club. Tickets are still available for the event at the sport shops and will be available at the banquet.

The Foxes have scheduled a workout for Thursday morning and will play Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh at Goodland.

Schedule Revamped

3 ML Fields Expected To be Unplayable Until Approximately May 15

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The Clas A Midwest Baseball League opens Sunday, but you won't be able to tell who's playing where by the official schedule.

Ball parks at three Iowa cities—Dubuque, Clinton and Davenport—are expected to be under Mississippi River floodwaters at depths estimated up to seven feet.

Officials at the three cities guess it will be at least May 15 before the field can be cleared of debris, dried out and put in playing condition.

All three cities were scheduled to stage openers Sunday.

During the period while fields are unplayable, dates will be swapped where possible or postponed. Teams likely won't be back on the original schedule until just before the first half of the season ends, June 27.

The revamped opening day schedule finds Clinton at Decatur, Dubuque at Burlington, Iowa, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, at Fox Cities, Waterloo, Iowa, at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., and Quad Cities of Davenport at Quincy, Ill.

Burlington and Quincy also are on the Mississippi, but the ball parks are safe from floodwaters.

Only two of the 1964 managers are returning. Billy DeMars is back at Fox Cities where, last year, his team won the second half and then the one-game playoff with Clinton.

Richie Klaus returns for the fourth straight season at Decatur.

Fox Cities is a Baltimore Oriole farm club. Decatur is connected with the San Francisco Giants. Other affiliations and managers are:

Carol's Parents Accept 'Athlete Of Year' Award

Miss Sorenson Not Able to Attend; MU Coach Eyes Sullivan

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Carol Sorenson, Janesville's gift to golf who added the British women's championship to her list of laurels last September, was saluted Tuesday night as Wisconsin's 1764 Athlete of the Year.

The 22-year-old Miss Sorenson, a four time Wisconsin women's champion, was unable to appear because of the pressure of studies in her senior year at Arizona State, but she was well represented at the ninth annual sports night of St. Therese Parish.

The blonde slugger's mother accepted the Associated Press certificate honoring the young golfer as the first female to gain the top athlete award on the basis of the annual AP poll of state sports writers and sportscasters.

Then Carol's father, Ted Sorenson, who guided her golf career in younger years, proudly accepted for his daughter the SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A two-run triple by Grant Beise capped a five-run ninth inning Tuesday as the University of Wisconsin baseball team defeated Notre Dame 10-4.

Badger pitcher Lance Tobert fanned 10 and walked only two in a six-hit performance which gave Wisconsin its seventh triumph in eight starts. The Irish handed the Badgers their first loss of the season Monday.

Noire Dame has 10 victories in 16 starts.

UW Tackmen Finish Second In Triangular

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin finished second to Nebraska Tuesday in a triangular track meet staged as a tuneup for the Drake Relays at Des Moines Saturday.

Nebraska piled up points in running events to finish with 74 points. Wisconsin had 68½ and Houston trailed with 37½.

Wisconsin scored only one victory in the track events, Ken Latigolal winning the mile. But the Badgers took three field events.

Bob Freimuth won the shot put with a toss of 51 feet, 11½ inches. Gary Crites took the discus with a throw of 150 feet 9 inches, and Bill Holden won the high jumps with 6 feet, 8 inches.

Koufax Will Take Place in Rotation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dodger Manager Walt Alston has announced that left-hander Sandy Koufax will take his place in rotation and pitch against the New York Mets Thursday.

Alston had said earlier that he would give Koufax some extra rest after his five-hit 6-2 victory over Philadelphia last Sunday. He changed his mind Tuesday because of favorable reports on Koufax' arm.

Kaukauna Will Open Against Kimberly '9

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Junior southpaw Dave O'Brien who compiled a 4-1 record in 1964 heads the list of five lettermen on the Kaukauna High School baseball team, which is currently preparing for the season lid-lifter against Kimberly Friday.

O'Brien joins with first baseman Mike Andrews, infielder and short, third, catcher and Jack Capen, outfielder Tom Dreger and hurler Leo Verhag. The crew-cut strategist hopes for en to form the nucleus of the 1965 Ghost nine. All lettered in and at bat.

Now-departed shortstop Tim Verstegen was the top man with a .478 batting average. Catcher Buddy Eastern Conference slate and O'Brien, also graduated, was tie for the M-E championship next in line at .333.

The Ghosts will follow Friday's Papermaker clash with a return (non-conference) match against Two Rivers for an day. The only other non-loop game on the Kaukauna agenda is April 26 playing host to hits Dave's third victory was the gem, a no-hitter against Clintonville, after which, came a 4-hit effort in a 3-2 decision over Kimberly.

Wilson indicated that O'Brien will be on the hill at Kimberly Friday, and with good reason. The veteran Kaukauna mentor describes the Papermaker team as being a definite contender for the M-E title.

Others expected to help include Dennis Hilgenberg, Mike Gallenberger, Tom VandeHey, Kurt Luedtke, and Dennis Bloy.

Wilson indicated that the probable Ghost lineup at the moment would include Andrews,

Oshkosh's Bonnie Frohrib Sets Bowl-O-Rama Mark

Posts 833 Total on Opening Night; Appleton's Carl Heinritz Leads Men's Class A, With 876

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

One all-time tournament record was set and some hefty kegling took place as the Post-Crescent's third annual Bowl-O-Rama got underway Tuesday night at the 41 Bowl.

Pette Bonnie Frohrib, 564 Jefferson street, Oshkosh, capped her "comeback" season with a booming, 833 four-game series, including handicap, to take over the lead in the women's Class A division with the highest score ever recorded in that section.

Bonnie's total included games of 192, 197, 189 and 151 and surpassed the 809 by Marge Trybula, of Green Bay, which was the winning score in last year's classic and also topped the 829 hit by Percy Karnop,

Spahn Hurls Mets To 3-2 Triumph Over Los Angeles

Pitches Out of 2-on, 0-Out Jam in Ninth; Phils Edge Astros in 13th

BY MIKE RATHET

They've been saying Warren Spahn's over the hill. But maybe he just tumbled into the valley of the jolly green giant.

Spahn, who gave every indication in 1964 that he was getting too old to remain a big winner in the majors, apparently stopped off somewhere between seasons for a vitamin pick-me-up that has taken a couple of years off his 43-year-old left arm.

Making his second start Tuesday night, the winningest southpaw in major league history came through with another strong performance, allowing only one earned run in a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles that brought him his first triumph as a New York Met and the 357th of his career.

That left Spahn with a sparkling 2.12 earned run average and two steps closer toward his prime 1965 goal — "erasing the memory of last year when everything went bad for me."

Slides to 6-13

Spahn, won 23 games for Milwaukee in 1963, plummeted to a 6-13 mark last season with a 5.28 ERA. But he never once assumed he was over the hill.

"I am sound physically," he pointed out during spring training. "I just wasn't pitching enough last year. I have to work regularly to be effective."

"You can't convince me you go from middle age to old age in one year."

He proved his point against the Dodgers, working into the ninth with a four hit shutout.

Then a single by Wes Parker and an error by Ed Kranepool opened the door and the Dodgers stuck their foot in it with run-producing singles by Tommy Davis and John Roseboro.

But with the tying and winning runs on first and third, Spahn reared back into his high kick and pitched out of the jam. He struck out Jim Lefebvre for strikeout No. 2,500 of his career, got Ron Fairly on a grounder and finished with a flourish by striking out John Kennedy.

Elsewhere Roberto Clemente, still underweight from a battle with malaria this spring, drove in two runs with a pair of singles in Pittsburgh's 3-1 victory over San Francisco and Philadel-

Bragan's concerns centered on the continued unavailability of a pair of his top sluggers—Hank Aaron and Rico Carty.

Aaron has made one pinch-batting appearance as he rounds into form after surgery to remove a bone spur from his left ankle. Carty has been sidelined with a bad back.

With Lee Mave the only regular outfielder available for duty, Bragan has been trving others, including Felipe Alou, Ty Cline and Mack Jones.

Cline has made a success of his chance while taking Aaron's place in right field. Alou also has been seeing duty at first base, and Mack Jones apparently has become the first of the replacements to need a replacement.

Bragan to Replace Jones With Kolb In Outfield Spot

ST LOUIS (AP) — Manager Bobby Bragan was still patching his outfield lineup today as the Milwaukee Braves arrived for a single game with the defending National League champion St. Louis Cardinals.

Bragan's concerns centered on the continued unavailability of a pair of his top sluggers—Hank Aaron and Rico Carty.

Carl Heinritz, Appleton, also shared the spotlight on opening night as he uncorked a 876 series on the second shift to take over the lead in men's Class A. Carl put together three games over the 200 mark and sandwiched in-between was a 180 in his third game. He

Mantilla Homers in Bosox' 5-2 Triumph

Former Brave Clouts Grand Slam, Accounts for All 5 Red Sox RBIs

BY MURRAY CHASS

Felix Mantilla, who made good more moves than a belly dancer last year, has reduced his act. Instead of belting the ball between fielders and over fences while moving from one of six positions to another, he's just rapping the ball between fielders and over fences.

Mantilla, maintaining the power he discovered in 1964, drove in all of Boston's runs Tuesday in the Red Sox' 5-2 triumph over Washington. It was the only American League game scheduled.

Takes Lead in WIBC Singles

Eleanor Fisher, of Portland, Whacks 613 Pin Triple

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Bowlers from two of Portland's ton leagues will have their eye on team and all-events honors today when the Woman's International Bowling congress tournament moves into its 14th day.

The Portland area bowlers brought about a wholesale shakeup in the Division 1 doubles and singles Tuesday with Eleanor Fisher bowling a 613 to take the lead in singles, and Cassie Bain teaming with Helen Weyan for an 1189 and the top spot in the doubles.

Mrs. Fisher, president of the Greater Portland Woman's Bowling Association, displayed her leadership ability on the lanes with games of 164-234-215. Her 613 series replaced Phyllis Hill of Lakewood, Calif., as the leader. Mrs. Hill had a 604 last week.

Mrs. Williams, long one of Portland's top bowlers, had a 605 in her doubles while Mrs. Bain, a Salem bowler, contributed 583. The Salem ace came back with a 594 to go into seventh place in the singles.

There were four other new duns on the doubles board. Joyce Pilgrim and Betty Smith of Portland bowled 1147 to claim a second-place tie with previous leaders Marlys Filippini and Paula Long of Vancouver, Wash., while Ann Castrupel and Mabel Chipman of Portland combined for 1138 and fifth place.

The tournament had a new high individual game when Annie May of Portland rolled 245 in her doubles event. It was almost knocked off later when Alice Voss of Newberg, Ore., turned in a 244 in her team event.

Clemente, who has six hits in his last 12 at-bats, singles following Bill Virdon's double in the first inning and drove in another Pirate run in the fifth after Dick Schofield singled and moved to second on a grounder. Schofield's sacrifice fly in the second inning produced the other run.

Willie Mays provided the only San Francisco run with his third homer of the season. Mays' 420-foot belt came off Bob Friend, who needed Al McBean's relief help over the final 2-3 innings to get his second victory without a loss.

The Phillies edged the Astros in the 13th when reliever Hal Woodeshick issued two-out walks to Cookie Rojas and Frank Thomas before Amaro followed with his game-winning hit off Claude Raymond.

Jack Baldschun got the victory with three innings of perfect relief. Ray Herbert, acquired from the Chicago White Sox, started for the Phillies but left when he tired after shutting out the Astros on five hits through eight innings.

"and I would like to prove that they're wrong."
Was he referring to Bragan?
"Hope He Reads"
"I hope," he said, "that he reads the newspapers today."
This was only a few minutes after Spahn had survived a hectic ninth inning in which he received a vote of confidence from his 74-year-old manager, Casey Stengel.
The Dodgers scored twice in the ninth, had the tying run at third base and the winning run at first with none out.
That's when Stengel went out to consult with his pitcher and pitching coach.
"I've got Dennis Ribant and Frank McGraw ready in the bullpen," said Stengel. "How do you feel?"
"I'm all right," Spahn replied.
He proved it immediately by fanning Jim Lefebvre for the third time in four tries. The Dodger rookie joined a select group. He became Spahn's 2,500th strikeout victim.
Dodger left-hander Claude Osteen allowed four hits in eight innings and had a shutout for seven. Then a walk, an infield hit and two sacrifice bunts gave the Mets a 1-0 edge. They scored their two decisive runs in the ninth.
The complete game was Spahn's first since last July 13 when he lost to Philadelphia.

Baseball's Oldest Manager, Casey Stengel (right), tells the game's oldest active pitcher, Warren Spahn, "That was mighty fine pitchin' fella," after Spahn, who will be 44-years-old Friday, won his 357th major league victory with a 3-2 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers in Chavez Stadium Tuesday night. Holy Cross Says Alcindor Has Not Sent Application

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Schoolboy basketball sensation Lew Alcindor visited the campus of Holy Cross Tuesday and was given a red carpet treatment.
Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 star of New York's Power Memorial High School, was accompanied by his high school coach, Jack Donohue, who also is the new Crusader basketball coach.
A college spokesman admitted the school was very interested in Alcindor but said "we don't have much optimism about our chances of getting him." He also denied published reports one of them all," he said after a starting pitcher," he said Alcindor already has applied for admission to the college.

Spahn Elated After 3-2 Win Over Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — ers 3-2
Warren Spahn will gain baseball's Hall of Fame, whether he wins another game or not. But winning No. 357 Tuesday night was something extra special — Bobby Bragan has made since and not just because it was four last winter, when the Braves let Warren go to the Mets as pitcher and pitching coach.
"There are people who think I'm through as also denied published reports one of them all," he said after a starting pitcher," he said Alcindor already has applied for admission to the college.

Robert Lansing Ousted From '12 O'Clock High'

Network Brass Says Younger Squadron Leader Needed With Shifting Time Slot

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Lansing, the firm-jawed Gen. Savage of "12 O'Clock High", younger audience inacquainted has been jettisoned from the television series, but he asks al. that no tears be shed.

Lansing's departure has aroused a storm of complaint from growing numbers of fans. The action apparently stems from a network's concern with images, markets and other Madison Avenue terms.

It seems that next season ABC is shifting the show from its 10 p.m. Friday spot to 7:30 p.m. Monday. That, according to the network brass, means a younger audience inacquainted with an aging Air Force general, but he asks al. that no tears be shed.

Second Round At Fair Gets CBS Action

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Let's Go to the Fair! salutes the opening night festivities of the second and final year of the New York World's Fair. Guides are Durward Kirby, Jack Linkletter, Marilyn Van Derbur and Carolyn Mignini, the reigning Miss Teenage America.

6:30-8 (channel 5) — With "We've Lost a Train." The Virginian presents the pilot film for Laredo, a new western series next season. From the evidence of this episode it should be a dandy, light-hearted shoot-'em-up, providing ample opportunity for its Texas Ranger heroes Neville Brand, Peter Brown, William Smith and Philip Carey — to flex their muscles on the Mexican border. (COLOR)

7-7:30 (channel 11) — The Patty Duke Show has some innocent fun when its teen queen thinks she is "Pittsburgh" the folk singer, and takes over the spotlight in "The Pink Percolator," a beatnik coffee house.

7:30-8:30 (channel 11) — A couple of foreign pint-sized music divas reign over Shindig. First is Italy's Rita Pavone; next is England's Cilla Black. The Shangri Las sing the Disc Pick of the Week. "Out in the Streets."

8-8:30 (channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show has another amusing offering with "Baby Fat." The fun here is that Rob Brady (Carl Reiner) to patch up a Broadway comedy written by a serious Pulitzer Prize winning author, who doesn't know a "graveyard from a joke." It's all secret mission stuff.

8-10 (channel 4-5) — Wednesday Night at the Movies "The Last Hunt" concerns Robert Taylor and Stewart Granger pursuing the last of the great buffalo herds. (COLOR) Repeat

8:30-9:30 (channel 11) — "Who Killed the Jackpot?" which was scheduled on Burke's Law earlier and then postponed until now, is the pilot for Anne Francine new television series next season. "Honey West."

9-10 (channel 2) — Tony Randall joins forces with the host of The Danny Kaye Show for two funny comedy sketches. One involves the team trying to learn about art, and the other has them busy in a "100 Movie" — "The Brains."

'Queen' Luci to Arrive at Norfolk Azalea Festival

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Norfolk's 12th annual Azalea Festival opens today with the arrival of the festival queen, Luci Baines Johnson, 17, the President's younger daughter.

Luci's arrival at Norfolk Airport heralds four days of festivities which come to a climax Saturday with the arrival of the remainder of the Johnson family and the coronation of Queen Luci. The President is scheduled to place the crown on her head.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Mrs. Humphrey will arrive Thursday, when Humphrey is to speak to a civic club luncheon.

Azaleas around the coronation stage in the Botanical Garden "are coming in rapidly but I didn't want to take a chance," said Bob Matthews, garden superintendent.

So he ordered 19 bottled gas heaters installed near the flowers.

Singer Marian Anderson, her arms laden with flowers, leaves Carnegie Hall stage in triumphant farewell as 2,900 persons stood applauding and cheering. The world-famed concert and opera singer is nearing the age of 60. (AP Wirephoto)

Mother Kills 4 Children, Trys Suicide

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Police said today they have been unable to determine a reason for the strangling Tuesday of the four children of a woman whose husband was away much of the time on business trips.

The mother, Deanna Hanbey, 28, was in Memorial Hospital with her wrists and heels slashed. Police said she begged a hospital aide to "let her die." She was placed under constant guard.

Police Capt. Floyd Zellers said it was murder and attempted suicide.

Neighbors said Mrs. Hanbey was friendly and that they knew of no family trouble.

The four bodies were found on their smoldering mattresses in the Hanbey home after neighbors reported smoke was coming from it. Mrs. Hanbey was found on a bedroom floor. She had a necktie knotted about her neck in addition to the cuts.

The father and husband, Edward Hanbey, was away on a business trip. He is an auditor.

Police said three of the children were strangled with a woman's stocking and the fourth with a necktie. They were in night clothing. None of

Old Age Tax Relief

Once the question was raised into public view, there was nothing the Republicans and the Democrats at the capitol could do except to extend the deadline for the filing of applications for property tax relief to elderly citizens of modest means as provided by the 1964 law.

If there are not many questions upon which the anxious politicians of the two closely balanced Wisconsin political parties can agree, surely one of them is solicitude for the old folks.

But for the rest of us there is some room for doubt that all of the press agency from Madison during the last fortnight about this question has been accurate. There is the claim, for example, that many of the older people of the state did not apply for the benefits to which they were probably eligible because they had not heard about this law. If they had not heard about it during the last year of superlative publicity, we cannot imagine what can be devised to cause them to hear. Former Gov. Reynolds talked about it without respite for a year. Several state agencies at Madison have put out scores of press releases, to our knowledge. The newspapers publicized the program at length during the long legislative deliberations. During the political campaigns last fall, dozens of candidates for state office and the legislature talked about the tax concession in detail.

We believe the true explanation of the apparent lack of interest among elderly property holders of the state in this program lies in two other factors that the politicians cannot or dare not mention:

The inevitable complexity of filing applications under the act which resulted from the circumvention of the ordinary constitutional law which would have made such exemptions invalid if approached in a more direct way.

The exaggeration of the number of potentially eligible persons in the first instance by Gov. Reynolds a year ago, and his party in the legislature, in their anxiety to establish a campaign year posture of generosity and solicitude for the beleaguered property taxpayer.

The property tax credit scheme applies to persons over the age of 65, who have incomes of less than $3,000 a year, but it is administered through the income tax system, either through income tax deductions, or cash refunds from the state department of taxation. That is a long way around to granting property tax relief. But it was the only means available under the constitutional rule that property taxation must be uniform. A direct property tax exemption could not be enacted, under that constitutional provision which we believe to be a wise one. Circumvention was necessary to achieve this act.

Now it turns out that only about 25,000 persons had applied by the April 15 deadline, and officials say that not more than 50,000 will file even with the liberalized July 15 deadline. It seems more likely to us that the explanation for the official surprise was a distortion of the eligibility potential in the first place, rather than popular ignorance.

Let's Have the Referendum

Mayor Mitchell exercised one of the responsibilities of his important office Tuesday night when he minced no words in advising the Common Council that the record should be set straight regarding the proposed charter ordinances before the general public is misled by false and misleading interpretations being spread by some who would buck streamlining municipal government at any cost.

When the Common Council holds its first meeting of the new legislative year tonight it should pick up from where the mayor left off and follow through on his strong recommendation that it immediately order a referendum election.

In adopting the ordinances which will make the offices of clerk, treasurer, assessor and city attorney appointive rather than elective—an action taken by several other Wisconsin cities in recent years to make for efficiency and continuity in the administrative branch of municipal government—the previous Council did so by a solid 19 to 1 vote. Since then, however, there has been a whispering campaign in at attempt to confuse the public on the all-important, much needed reform.

The mayor made it clear the public should be given an objective picture of the benefits to be derived by a definite separation of the legislative, executive and administrative branches. There should be no doubt in the minds of anyone that the offices of clerk, treasurer, assessor and attorney are strictly administrative and should be occupied by qualified, career people who would not have to indulge in politics and “empire building” to keep their jobs.

The appointments to the four offices would be based on merit, training and qualifications. They would be made by the mayor after examinations have been given, and from a list of the top-ranked applicants provided by the state or local civil service board (in this case the State Bureau of Personnel) and under the rules of that bureau.

Contrary to the scuttlebutt being circulated, the mayor would not be given full appointive powers. The final appointment of the best qualified people for the positions would be made by the Common Council and this is specified in the charter ordinances.

The mayor made his position clear when he said, “No person shall take the oath of office or shall hold that office or shall have any prerogatives of that office until the appointment by the mayor has been confirmed by the Common Council of the City of Appleton.”

His statement that, “This recommendation (for an immediate referendum) is made so that we may give the citizens of Appleton a chance to hear the truth; a chance to know what is in these charter ordinances; and a chance to make up their minds and vote their convictions after they hear the true facts of what these charter ordinances consist of and what the charter ordinances actually will accomplish,” was indicative the municipal governing body should put its faith in the electorate and let the adage that truth is sometimes stranger than fiction prove itself.

We are confident that once the public digests all the facts concerning the positions of clerk, attorney, assessor and treasurer, it will respond in the affirmative. But first the Common Council must fulfill its obligation, and erase all doubts about the ordinances, by authorizing a referendum tonight with the election to take place within 60 to 90 days.

Neglect Can be Useful

One of the policies our federal government may finally be coming around to recognize for its usefulness in dealing with other nations is that of a little healthy neglect. This is especially true of some of the belligerent new countries where anti-Americanism has become a political gimmick. George Kennan not long ago suggested something of the kind.

Ellsworth Bunker, a special envoy of President Johnson, spent several days in Jakarta discussing the differences between the governments of the United States and Indonesia with President Sukarno. At the end of the period about all that had been decided was that our Peace Corps would be withdrawn within the next few weeks. Our Information Agency libraries already have been closed and most aid cut off. However, technical assistance still is going to Indonesian universities where, presumably, it isn't so apparent to the people who hear Sukarno denounce the United States regularly. Meanwhile the “nationalization” of American industries in Indonesia goes on, at least to the extent of government controlled management.

Only a few months ago, President Nasser of the United Arab Republic shouted that the United States could take its aid and go drink sea water which apparently is the Egyptian equivalent of “go jump in the lake” or something even more improper. But this week information seeped out that Nasser is seeking about $3½ million in aid from none other than the United States.

The United States should not have a hard and fast rule about giving help where it isn't wanted, or at least where it is spurned, even if only for public consumption and to get the cheers of the crowd. But whenever such incidents occur, we certainly should consider seriously curtailing the various American programs within those countries. We might find that some of them—like the Information Agency libraries—were never worth the cost. And strings attached to the others might bring a little more cooperation and respect if not adoration.

Rewards Offered for Assassins

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for April 20, 1865.

Several suspected conspirators have been arrested. One man supposed to be Booth was arrested at Tamaqua, Pa., but proved to not be him, and was discharged. Booth is yet at large.

The Secretary of War offers $50,000 reward for the arrest and capture of Booth, the assassin, and $25,000 each for two of his accomplices.

Every effort, every ingenuity, excited by the fervor, is being put forth by the proper authorities to capture or track down the assassins.

The common council (at Washington, D. C.) has offered a reward of $20,000 for the arrest and conviction of the assassins. Ten thousand dollars is added by Col. L. C.

Baker, of the War Department.

Vote Against Rothwell Not Necessarily an Ignorant One

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Post-Crescent is my favorite newspaper and I have always been pleased at any opportunity to commend it. However this letter is for the purpose of taking exception to an editorial of Friday, April 9.

First let me say that the lead editorial, “People Want Lotteries” seems to be a reasonable assessment of the situation regarding gambling in our fair state. Nonetheless one might hope for The Post-Crescent to take a stronger position favoring freedom in this matter.

It seems more than a little inconsistent to bend over backwards to protect publishers' rights to put out books and magazines that by all reasonable standards are obscene (even if not legally so) and unquestionably harmful to the common good and, at the same time, deny citizens the right to play bingo for cash or prizes. Both personally and professionally I resent this intrusion of the state into the preferences of its people. I reject as unproved the assertion that any gambling whatsoever inevitably opens the door to mobsters and racketeers.

My main criticism, however, is directed to your editorial, “Rothwell's Victory.” I protest most strongly your branding voters of the Chilton area with the stigma of “ignorance or religious prejudice” simply because Rothwell's opponent did well at the polls here.

I for one did not vote for Rothwell because I believe he gives evidence of desiring to make his office omnipotent. To me he seems like a man who believes the right to educate belongs to the state and not to parents.

Many consider him the most powerful man in Wisconsin. His office controls the lion's share of all our tax money. He has not hesitated to use the “big stick” (i.e. threat of withdrawal of state funds) to bring school districts to heel. The situation in Little Chute may be a case in point. To be sure, the superintendent must abide by state law but many citizens would like to see some indication of genuine concern for local preferences and the widest possible freedom in education.

Understandably I am concerned with the welfare of parochial school children. Rothwell has not, to my knowledge, seen fit to utter a syllable favorable to the hundreds of thousands of such Wisconsin children. One would hope that he above all others would be eager to find constitutional ways to promote their education and further their safety.

Some public educators merely tolerate private schools and look upon them as encroachments on the state schools' exclusive preserve. I trust our superintendent is not of this mind. Maybe someday he will favor us with his views on these matters.

Recently the legal machinery to amend the state constitution to provide bus service for non-state school youngsters was set back at least a full year by a clerical blunder, according to the attorney general's ruling.

In vain did not look for any expression of regret, much less a protest, from the department of public instruction which presumably is concerned with the welfare and safety of all Wisconsin children. Even the Post-Crescent—long since on record as favoring highway safety for all children—let it pass quietly.

In summary there might be any number of reasons, other than religious prejudice and ignorance, that would account for the considerable vote for Rothwell's opponent. Nor would such balloting necessarily indicate a lack of concern for our public school system.

Thank you for enabling me to air my views in your fine paper.

Meaning of Votes for Wollenberg

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The editorial in the Post and Mr. Wyngaard's comments on the votes tallied by Mr. Wollenberg prompts me to write this letter. Unmentioned, but I'm certain not unnoticed was the fact that Little Chute also went for Mr. Wollenberg. Might not this represent a vote against Rothwell rather than a vote for his opponent?

Here we are in the midst of a serious school problem and where is Mr. Rothwell? There are no less than six assistant superintendents. Have any of them come to advise or counsel us? There must be other: Little Chutes in Wisconsin who have tried it alone even though they had no industry. How did the small school work out and what did it cost them? These men have the answers but they're not giving them.

We have finally been promised a speaker from Madison. Will we merit the superintendent or one of his six assistants? More likely we'll qualify for an audio-visual aids man.

Municipal Income Tax Not Likely in State – At Least for Awhile

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON—Barely noted in the general news dispatches about the State Legislature the other day was the overwhelming vote without discussion of the State Assembly in killing a bill offered by a Milwaukee assemblyman to authorize local government income taxes on an optional basis.

It may be supposed that the Assembly's vote was representative of the attitude of its constituents, especially when constituents were painfully aware at filing time of the high rate of income taxation of the national government and the rising exactions upon incomes of the state government. Politics in Wisconsin is a subject about which the seasoned student is not likely to make hard and fast predictions. But it seems a reasonable assumption that there is no widespread support for an extra layer of municipal income taxation and that the state is not likely to venture into that thicket unless fiscal problems become considerably more compelling than they are today.

THE PROBLEM
Yet the Assembly's casual action, roughly equivalent to the gesture of swatting a fly, was probably symptomatic of the curious indifference of state policy makers on the whole toward the chronic and worsening problems of local government finance.

Today state finance and taxation is in the forefront of the political issues of Wisconsin, in virtually everybody's definition. Republicans generally are worried about electoral reactions to the rising state budget under a Republican governor and the later resentment that will probably register when the full impact of the tax implications of that budget is felt. Democrats can scarcely contain their gleeful hopes that the state finance issue and the burden of rising state taxes can be exploited with profit at the next elections.

Yet as a matter of demonstrable fact the burden of local government taxation in thousands of Wisconsin households is larger and more painful than is the state tax obligation, scattered and staggered and often disguised and hidden as the state tax levy on the whole has become.

In any typical city or suburban neighborhood the residential property tax next to the federal income tax which is extracted quietly and painlessly through the withholding law is the most important tax obligation of the representative family. To the young or youthful householder, it is one of the most important of the pressing economic facts of life.

TALK
This is familiar matter in the typical political campaign speech. Perhaps there isn't a single experienced politician now on the public affairs stage of Wisconsin who hasn't ventured a dozen times his belief that something must be done to broaden the revenue base of localities because of the inevitable approach of maximum property tax levies in many districts.

But rarely is anybody venturesome enough to suggest specific avenues for the strengthening of local financial foundations. Always when the pressure becomes too great to ignore, the Legislature responds with another infusion of state aid money, which is gradually destroying the meaning of the “home rule” idea and tradition of the state. Lately there has been the dangerous tendency to resort to specific exemptions such as the special property tax status of elderly freeholders, which is plainly discriminatory and merely transfers the burden to other shoulders not necessarily better able to carry it.

A dozen times in recent memory there have been proposals for “studies.” The “study” is the convenient response of the politician to a problem he cannot or is unwilling to confront directly. The most recent illustration of the tendency to circumvent the problem was the creation of a citizens' commission a year ago to examine into state and local financing problems generally. Its conclusion on the latter phase of its mandate was to recommend another study.

Many Words Are Lost Because We're Afraid

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS
I was planning to write a column about the amazing seals I saw last month in Miami's Seaquarium, and I actually began a paragraph about their “phocine antics.”

Then I tore it up, because

most readers would have to look up “phocine,” and would blame me for using a rare word, even though that is the only proper one to describe seal-like behavior.

There are hundreds upon hundreds of fine words, with precise and distinct meanings, that are never used in speech or writing; either because we are unaware of them, or because we are ashamed of being thought verbally pretentious. This is a great loss of verbal resources.

There are two classes of “difficult” words. One class consists of words that have satisfactory synonyms: there is no reason, except showing-off, for me to write “uberous” when I mean “plentiful,” or to write “esurience” when I mean “greedy hunger.” It is sophomoric to try to impress anyone in this silly fashion.

But the other class of difficult words consists of those which have no real synonyms. If I want to describe something shaped like a beak, I must say “ramphoid,” or use four words instead of one; if I want to say “not capable of being mingled,” I must say “immiscible,” or use five words instead of one.

After I tore up the paragraph on “phocine antics,” I made up a little mental list of words I know but have never used in 20 years of writing this column—largely because I did not want to be considered a verbal exhibitionist. Yet my cowardice in this respect has prevented many people from learning new words that might be useful and time-saving.

“Orectic,” is a lost word, meaning “pertaining to the desires.” “Crotaline” means “resembling the rattlesnakes.” “Macarism” is “joy in another's felicity.” “Comose” means “bearing a tuft of soft hairs.”

Something that is “urticant” produces “itching or stinging.” “Cibarial” means “pertaining to food.” “Chreotechnics” are “the useful arts.” “Nestlitherapy” is “treatment by reducing the amount of food.” “Imbricate” means “lying lapped over each other in regular order,” like shingles on a roof.

“Enation” is “kinship on the mother's side.” “Redhibition” is “the return of merchandise for cash because of defect.” “Ergasia” is “a disposition toward work.” “Shotty” means “hard and round.” “Aeronid” is “resembling sand.” “Optative” is “something to be desired.”

Thousands of other such words lie rusting away in the dictionary, of interest only to philologists. By failing to exploit the full potential of our language, we not only become dull, vague and verbose in our expression; we also fail to develop the muscles of communication.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

CAN EVERYONE
BE SUCCESSFULLY BRAIN-WASHED?
YES ☐ NO ☐

No. People vary extensively in work does not need to be the ease with which they can be drudgery. When mother and influenced. The best protection daughters work together. they against being brain-washed, find satisfaction not only in jobs whether as a prisoner of the well done, but also in their communists or an American family cooperation.

Drovers Journal,
Livestock Paper,
Shifts to Weekly

CHICAGO (AP)—The 92-year-old Drovers Journal, trade newspaper which has kept the livestock industry posted daily since its founding, will shift to a weekly publication after May 1.

A cost-price squeeze. Editor Allan W. McGhee said Tuesday, has prompted the decision to shift the paper's mailings to some 30,000 subscribers from a daily to a weekly basis.

With a single weekly issue much larger than the current daily editions, the annual cost to subscribers drops from $11 to $4, with paid up accounts extended to cover additional periods.

McGhee said the paper's emphasis will change to a greater in-depth treatment of industry developments.

U. S. Official Benefits From Sale of Stock

No Improper Action Charged In SEC Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Secretary of Commerce Herbert W. Klotz, ment one of a dozen persons benefited from a tip on Texas Sulphur Co. stock, a quick paper profit amounting to $14,500.

Klotz was mentioned in connection with a Securities and Exchange Commission suit that charged some officials of the company with concealing information about valuable mineral discoveries in Canada. Although he was receiving a tip, the suit charges he acted improperly.

2,000 Shares
The Commerce Department official did not say if he sold the 2,000 shares of the company. He bought them at $7 a share, he said, after receiving a tip from Miss Nancy A. Brown, now Mrs. Francis Brown, who was then working at the pavilion of the New York World's Fair.

Klotz said she stated long-time family friend H. Darke, who was employed by the company, told her family that the company had very good immediate future prospects.

The stock closed at $16.50 a share on April 16, 1964, on which announcement of the discovery was made. It was now selling for $88 a share. "In my official capacity as the Department of Commerce, I have never had nor expected to have any contact with the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. or its officials," Klotz said.

South Carolina Governor Quiets Senate Session

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Gov. Donald S. Russell announced today he will resign to pave the way for appointment to the U.S. Senate now open due to the death of Sen. Olin D. Johnston.

Russell, 59, made the announcement at a news conference.

Gov. Robert McNamara will become governor and appoint Russell.

The changeover will be effective at noon Thursday.

Report by McNamara

Increase of S. Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, returning today from a strategy meeting in Saigon, said infiltration of arms from the North into South Vietnam has increased "highly" in recent months. Thus the secretary, in a side exchange, backed the statement he made Tuesday night in Hanoi that American air and ground forces against North Vietnam will be stepped up. He said that forecast at the close of a series of conferences with military leaders from South Vietnam and Washington.

In answer to a question about reasons for such stepped-up action, McNamara said sometimes fail to understand the importance of the South Vietnamese.

Asked about the Red threat to send troops into North Vietnam, McNamara replied: "I don't want to forecast a Red China's part."

To another question about the threat of Soviet anti-missiles in North Vietnam, McNamara said he thought should anticipate that they will be there but there is no information yet that the missiles are on site.

McNamara said that 100 per cent engagement with U.S. units, 90 per cent of arms captured and 100 per cent of the enemy's forces.

Veteran War Writer

Columnist Hal Boyle

En Route to Viet Nam

Hal Boyle, 54, Associated Press human interest columnist for 21 years, is en route to his third assignment to a major armed conflict — Viet Nam.

Boyle, whose daily column appears in approximately 500 afternoon newspapers, was war correspondent for The Associated Press in Africa and Europe in World War II where his frontline stories of GIs in action won him a Pulitzer Prize in 1945.

In 1950 he volunteered for Associated Press duty in Korea, and reported on frontline activities during the heaviest fighting on that peninsula. There he won the Veterans of Foreign War's gold medal award for "outstanding contribution to national security." He also received the Overseas Press Club top award for best reporting in radio, television and newspapers.

Column Started

Boyle's column was born under fire in Salerno, Italy, in 1943 and has been a continuous Associated Press feature since. Following the surrender of Japan he traveled around the world, writing stories from 65 countries.

Boyle's five-day-a-week column will be written from South Viet Nam during his assignment abroad.

In 1951, in presenting the VFW gold medal, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, then chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, said of Boyle:

"I am pleased that this award goes to a friend I have known so long. He is the soldier's friend. I don't know anyone who knows fighting at the front so well, or anyone who has written so well about it."

Boyle, who has been dubbed "The Poor Man's Philosopher" and the "Pavement Plato," is a native of Kansas City, Mo., where he started his AP career in 1928 as a copy boy at 17.

He was night city editor of the New York AP bureau in 1942 when he first went overseas.

Work Stoppages Delayed

New Rubber Pacts

OK'd Tentatively

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The United Rubber Workers and two of the rubber industry's big three — Firestone and Goodrich — reached tentative agreements on new contracts early today, a few hours after old contracts expired.

The union and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the third member of the big three, also held a negotiating session that went past the midnight expiration time. The two sides were to resume talks later today.

No work stoppages were reported at the companies' plants all across the country. The union's executive committee has strike vote authorization.

A union source in Dayton, Ohio, where the Goodrich talks are being held, estimated the new two-year contract would provide the company's URW workers with a 28-cent hourly wage-benefit package.

Cincinnati is the site of the Goodyear talks. Firestone negotiations are taking place in Cleveland.

Mississippi's Crest at

LaCrosse Is 17.7 Feet

Weary Residents Still Face

3 Days of Watching Dikes

Against Torrents of Water

LA CROSSE (AP)—The Mississippi River's spring onslaught against La Crosse hit its peak today a few inches below the predicted level, but weary residents still faced three days of siege by the mightiest torrent in memory.

"That's as high as it's going to go," Weather Bureau river specialist Joseph Strub said at Minneapolis after the river had hung for 14 hours at the 17.7 foot level, just short of the predicted 18-foot crest.

But there were few cheers along the five-mile perimeter of dikes where hundreds of residents, National Guardsmen and volunteers from as far away as Milwaukee had just gone through 48 frenzied hours to raise one last row of sandbags.

High Mark

"Wait until Friday," one said grimly of the announced crest, which is 5.7 feet above flood stage and 2.4 feet above the high water mark of 1952. La Crosse weatherman Carl Peterson has said the water will not begin to recede until then.

The workers had been given a brief respite shortly before mid-

6,000 at Gate

When Fair Opens

For Last Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The billion-dollar New York World's Fair reopened today for its final season and 6,000 persons were waiting at the main gate when the turnstiles started turning.

An ancient Swedish naval cannon boomed a salute and hundreds of bright blue balloons soared into a sunny sky when a ribbon was snipped to officially start the new season at 8:30 a.m.

The crowd shouted with pleasure when "Father Knickerbocker," a symbol of New York City, wielded a pair of golden scissors.

The ribbon-cutting started a day of ceremonies highlighted by a parade and speeches by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and West German Mayor Willy Brandt.

Special subway trains on express runs from Times Square in Manhattan to the fairgrounds at Flushing Meadow Park in Queens began operating at 6 a.m.

Budget Bureau

Director Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kermit Gordon, director of the Bureau of the Budget since December 1962, is resigning about June 1 to become vice president of the Brookings Institution, a private research center.

He will be succeeded by Charles L. Schultze, who quit less than 10 weeks ago as assistant budget director and was told by President Johnson "I hope I may call on you for help in the future because we have a lot of unfinished business to see to."

Their Own Escalation

Red Chinese Threat Result of Communist Powers' Contest

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

own form of escalation of the peril in Southeast Asia

The Red Chinese have seemed to be trying to force Moscow to become more and more involved in a bellicose quarrel with the United States. Peking now indicates it believes it is on the way to achieving such a goal.

The standing committee of the National People's Congress in Peking announces it has called on Chinese organizations to "make preparations" to send their own people to fight the Americans in Viet Nam.

Real Question

The question is whether this is a real threat to intervene or a signal to the Communist world that Red China is more willing and more able than the Soviet Union to call the shots in Southeast Asia. The latter seems the case.

Peking —as before— still is "prepared" to send volunteers. It has not said it will send them. Several ifs are attached to the broadside — if "U.S. imperialism continues to escalate" the war; if the Vietnamese ask such help. Peking will be the judge of the first if. As for the second, there are strong doubts that Hanoi is anxious to have a flood of Chinese volunteers.

Strong Evidence

There is strong evidence that the Moscow-Peking struggle for influence in the Communist and underdeveloped worlds is involved in Peking's threats.

Appears Before Grand Jury

Night-Rider Slaying Suspect

Reported as FBI Informant

BY REX THOMAS

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — One of the four men originally arrested in the night-rider slaying of Viola Liuzzo testified for about two hours before a Lowndes County grand jury Tuesday, near the end of its probe into the case.

Gary Thomas Rowe, 34, of Birmingham, reportedly an undercover agent for the F.B.I., was guarded closely during his appearance Tuesday. Then he was taken to an undisclosed location.

An FBI agent was with him when he slipped into the jury room through a side door of the courthouse and later escorted him out a back door. A number of other agents were in the area.

Charge Dismissed

The government dismissed charges against Rowe some time after his arrest.

Another who testified was Leroy Moton, 19, a Selma Negro who was with Mrs. Liuzzo when gunfire from a passing car killed her a few hours after the end of the Selma to Montgomery civil rights march.

The Detroit mother of five was on the way back to Montgomery after taking some marchers to Selma. The shooting occurred March 25 near Lowndesboro on U.S. Highway 80.

Two state investigators, several federal agents and a toxicologist appeared before the jury the past two days.

Others Indicted

The other three arrested in the case were indicted by a federal grand jury in Montgomery on charges of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of demonstrators.

They are Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, and Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield. They are free on bonds of $50,000 each pending arraignment in Montgomery.

"There can be no compromise between the Vietnamese people and the U.S. aggressors on this question," said the Chinese Communist party paper, the Peking People's Daily.

Attacking President Johnson's April 17 statement that the United States insists that the independence of South Viet Nam be guaranteed, Peking said:

Great Sacrifice

"The very purpose for which the South Vietnamese people are fighting at great sacrifice to themselves is to destroy completely this so-called 'independent country,' a product of U.S. imperialism, and to realize the reunification and complete liberation of their fatherland."

"So long as this so-called 'independent country' created by the U.S. exists, there can be no complete reunification nor a completely independent country for the Vietnamese people themselves. There can be no compromise between the Vietnamese people and the U.S. aggressors on this question."

Freeman, who replaces Roy Akins as the City of New London Second Ward representative; Irvin Zimdars, Village of Embarrass, replacing Henry Gipp; Harold Simons, replacing Sanborn Peterson as the Village of Ogdensburg supervisor, and Alex Pope from the Town of Waupaca, who has replaced retiring George Redman as town board chairman and county supervisor.

Suggest Chilton Purchase Well Site

Public Works Director Reports 600 Gallon Flow at Test Boring

CHILTON — Walter Muehl, Brillion, Kiel, and county public works director, will be attending the bi-monthly sessions in Chilton. He recommended that the city purchase the acre of property on the Harold Koehler farm on County Trunk Y east of Graves road to reassess the city before where the new well is being making any recommendation.

Muehl reported test pumping of over 24 hours showed an excellent water supply. More than 600 gallons per minute have been taken from the well with only a six inch pipe. This is nearly as much as all the existing city wells provide. Muehl said pumping of the second test well has proved disappointing although it has been pumped at around 200 gallons per minute. He recommended delaying a decision as to the development of the second well until the first well is completed. The city's extreme water shortage forced the location of an out of town source.

Mayor Harry Thompson announced that the five-man committee appointed by the State Board of Health to research the possibility of a six-county water utility will meet in Chilton at 10 a.m. next Tuesday.

Parking of house trailers in the city limits outside of organized trailer camps was prohibited in an ordinance adopted Tuesday. Existing trailers may remain but no new ones will be allowed.

The council purchased 1,000 informative pamphlets published by the American Water Works Association for $25. The pamphlets will be distributed to property owners with their water bills.

Hearing Granted Teacher Not Offered 1966 Contract

Immediate Resignation Accepted From Another at Waupaca School

WAUPACA—One of two teachers of the Waupaca School system who was not offered a teaching contract for the 1965-66 school year was granted a hearing by the Waupaca Board of Education Tuesday night. Tentatively, 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday was set for the date of the hearing.

A resignation was accepted by the board from another faculty member who was not offered a contract. The resignation became effective April 15. In his letter, Richard C. Naslund criticized the board for what Naslund called the unprofessional manner in which they chose not to issue him a contract. He declared that "the administrators have attempted naively to gain the respect they feel they deserve through a widespread display of dictatorial-like power at contract and assignment time. This folly has only served to open the eyes of all teachers," he said. His resignation letter was similar to a prepared statement he read at a recent meeting of the Waupaca (WEA) meeting.

The teacher who will receive a hearing, said at the WEA meeting that the only reasons he was given for not being offered another contract were that he may leave the Waupaca school system to attend graduate school and that he had discipline problems in his classroom. He denied both points.

Three Others Resign
Resignations of three other teachers were accepted by the board and contracts for two new teachers were approved at the

FBI Arrests Son Of Man Held in Bank Holdup

Charge 16-Year-Old Chilton Youth Aided In Withee Robbery

Michael Hephner, 16, son of bank robbery suspect Raymond Hephner, 39, route 4, Chilton, was arrested by FBI agents and local authorities at his rural Chilton home Tuesday as an alleged accomplice in the $11,000 holdup of the Withee bank March 31.

Special Agent Richard J. Baker, Milwaukee, said the youth will be charged with aiding and abetting and being an accessory of his father in the bank holdup.

Details of the arrest and the part the youth is alleged to have played in the bank robbery were not released by authorities. Both the youth and his father are scheduled for preliminary hearings in a Milwaukee federal court Friday.

Michael was taken before U.S. Commissioner John Duffy in Green Bay after his arrest and was released on his own bond of $1,000.

Recover Funds
Agents and Calumet County Sheriff Cornelius Kosmosky arrested the youth's father Saturday morning at his rural home and recovered a reported $1,500 in money alleged to have been taken in the robbery. Hephner denied at the time of his arrest that he had any connection with the robbery. He is being held in the Brown County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond.

In the Withee robbery, a man who posed as a prospective automobile buyer seeking to arrange a loan staged an armed robbery and abducted the bank cashier, Leon Bruchert, 37, and the car salesman, Melvin J. Boardman, 46, and made off with the money.

Bruchert and Boardman were locked in the trunk of the getaway car when the bandit abandoned it on a rural road. Police records show that the elder Hephner served a prison term for bank robberies in Pearl City and Kent, Ill., and Edmund, Wis., in 1952.

Weyers was defeated for vice chairman by Patrick Mares (Appleton 19th) by a 30-25 plurality.

Weyers (Appleton 19th) by a 30-25 plurality.

The eight men elected by the board will serve on the executive committee as representatives of specific standing committees. When the committees formally organize, the eight men must serve as chairmen or vice chairmen of the committees they represent.

Fishing Picks Up

Wolf River Returning To Its Normal Level

NEW LONDON — All is calm drop in the water level and along the banks of the Wolf warming of the water. Fishing River, at least for the moment, reports continue to improve U.S. Army Corps of Engineers each day.

Shiocton has been the center gauge reader at New London. Ruben Voss, reports the Wolf of activity. Tuesday Lawrence reached its crest of 9.66 feet. Roberts, Shiocton reported the 12:30 p.m. Friday and had been catching of a 25 inch walleye slowly receding. He reports the level at 9 feet 7 a.m. Tuesday.

A more rapid drop in the level started hitting at New London, of the Embarrass River has Northport, at the Big Eddy, and been noticed although no accurate figures are available in New London. No threat of fish derbies is a 27½ inch flooding by the Embarrass is contemplated, but the river still Wausau.

Local fishermen predict the big run will not begin until the weekend with the continued fish began to spawn.

Bill Tabled For Being Too Strict

WAUPACA — Action to ban overnight camping or parking in the more than 12 county parks and waysides was started Tuesday, when a resolution was presented to the county board. However, it was tabled for revamping when the regulations were found to be too rigid.

The resolution, which listed lack of sanitary facilities as the main reason for the parks and waysides being unsuitable for camping, was accepted by the board. However, entering a wayside or county park between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. was prohibited in the ordinance presented Tuesday. It also stipulated that all parks and waysides be marked with the closing times and set as the penalty for disregarding the ordinance a fine of from $1 to $50 plus costs, or up to 30 days in jail.

Several members of the board objected to the complete closing of the wayside during the listed hours. If the waysides were closed, truckers and motorists who now stop for short rest periods would be in violation of the ordinance. Supv. Carl Dretzke pointed out. He also said camping atlases now on sale list Keller Park, between Marion and Big Falls as an overnight camping area. He said it would be unfair to the tourists to close the park at this time.

Causing Problems

The resolution and ordinance was brought to the county board floor by the education and agriculture committee which has charge of the parks and waysides in the county. The lack of proper restroom facilities and water at the parks has been causing problems for the committee for the past five or six years, one of the members said.

Fred Grunwald, county highway commissioner said the park at Gills Landing on the Wolf River is taken over by campers at times. Last year during white bass season there were 23 campers in the park at one time and there was not enough room for fishermen to park their cars. It also was mentioned that if the parks were closed after 10 p.m., many fishermen who fish all night would not be able to

BY DICK LYNEIS

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Trying to keep abreast of the airport situation in Outagamie and the status of North Central Airlines service to the Fox Cities brings to mind the old "Abbott and Costello" routine of "Who's on First?"

Events on Monday took North Central service away from the Fox Cities; but on Tuesday events brought North Central service back, took it away again, and finally brought it back again.

Getting confused? As of this moment, it will be possible to fly out of Appleton Saturday on a North Central Airlines DC3, but not from the Outagamie County Airport.

Getting more confused?

Changes on Saturday
The Outagamie County Airport (the one we have today in the Town of Grand Chute) won't be the Outagamie County Airport on Saturday. The new airport (the one we don't have today because it is sitting idle in the Town of Greenville) will be the Outagamie County Airport on Saturday.

Getting even more confused? Let's go back to the beginning. In order to find out why CAB trial examiner Edward T. Stodola recommended that a new regional airport be built in the vicinity of Neenah to serve the area. However, Stodola recommended that if the new regional airport wasn't built, the service should be continued separately at each airport.

On Nov. 24 the CAB announced that it disagreed with its examiner and ruled the Winnebago County Airport in Oshkosh be designated the regional airport. Outagamie County filed a petition for reconsideration with the CAB, but the board refused to grant the request.

Then Outagamie announced it was appealing the CAB decision to the 7th District United States Court.

'Status Quo' Order
The CAB then decided to grant a stay on the Jan. 25 effective date of its ruling which would last until after the federal court disposes of appeals in the airport controversy. The board also ruled that the "status quo" must be maintained until after the court disposes of the case.

However, Outagamie County didn't want to be in the position of operating two airports, so a resolution was passed saying the old airport would be closed on April 24. North Central, after refusing several requests, announced it would not transfer its operations voluntarily to the new airport and asked CAB to allow things to go smoothly. The fates just weren't going to allow things to go that smoothly.

Highway Work

Further action permitted ap- plication of the $56,000 state trunk highway allotment for continuation of approved county projects and in particular the portion of U.S. 10 and State 114 between Appleton and Sherwood, for an approximate distance of 6.36 miles.

Members of the zoning board of adjustments, which include Julius Schmidt, chairman, James Cullen and A. N. Hertel, were reappointed.

Okay Zoning Changes

In other action the board adopted the five zoning changes recommended by the Park County Highway Commissioner. It opened the way for the Village of Potter to purchase a chip spreader and two trucks for Zoning regulations have been unchanged since originally adopted in 1948.

Also included were a pair of mobile home parks, one between New Holstein and Chilton and the other between Kiel and New Holstein, both on State 57. Midland Cooperative was given permission to construct a liquid nitrogen fertilizer tank near Kiel.

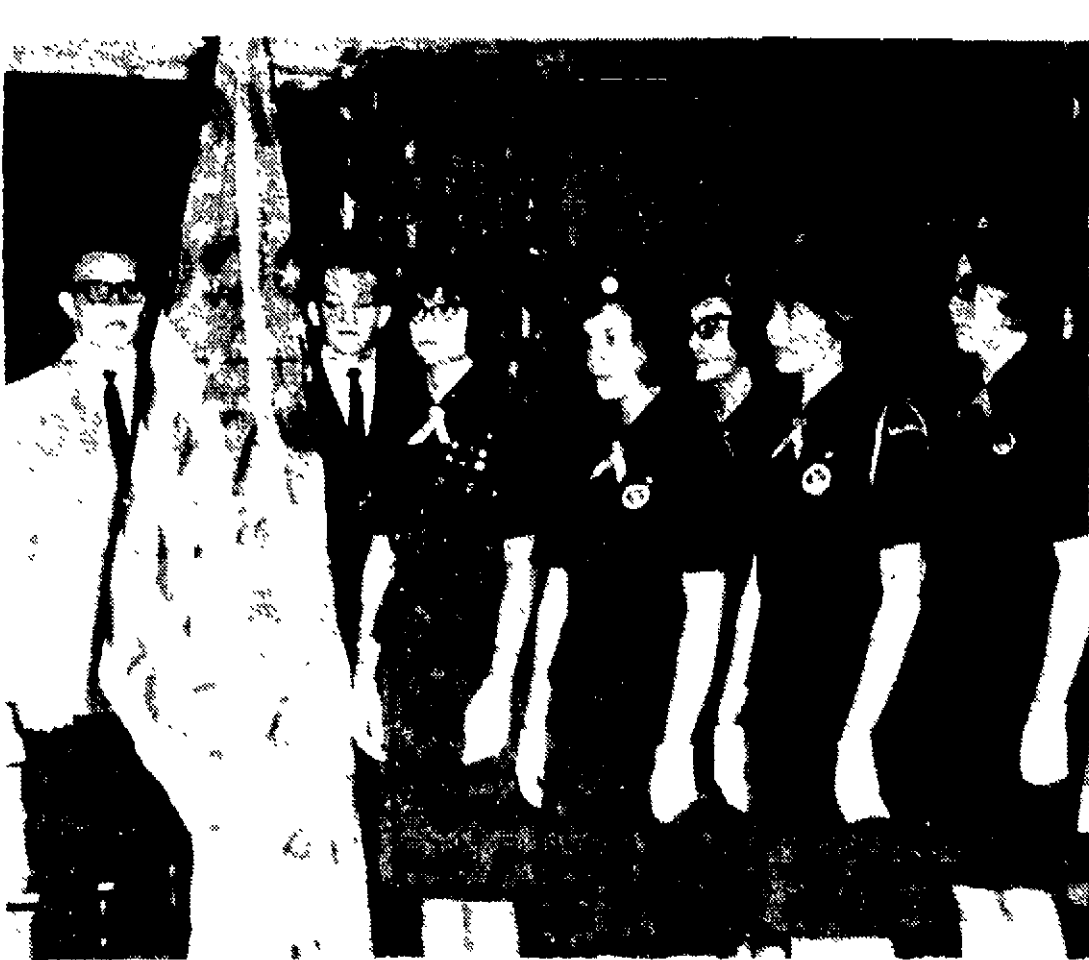

Relocation of the Lake Park Tavern to a plot a half mile north of its present site also was made possible. The new land will be rezoned from agriculture to commercial and allow for road construction at the present site.

Deny Request

The board also concurred with the zoning commission's recommendation in denying the request of Frank Schneider, Inc. will meet at 6 30 p.m. today in Don's Supper Club, recreation center at the site of about two miles north of New duck hunting refuge north of High Cliff Park.

Brothertown was authorized to pass its individual zoning ordinance by the board. It was passed 30-2 at the April 6 town meeting.

The public grounds committee was authorized to purchase a dictating machine for $207 at projects.

The Flag Used By the Clintonville American Legion Auxiliary since its inception in 1938 was retired in an impressive ceremony recently. Red Chinese Threat Result of Communist Powers' Contest revolution, the Peking announcement said: "The Chinese people have always been infinitely loyal in fulfilling their proletarian internationalist obligations. They have never spared any sacrifice whatever in this respect. They always mean what they say. Both past and present struggles testify to this."

For the present, the Red Chinese are likely to leave well enough alone. In the first place, they appear to be satisfied that from their point of view the war is producing cruel attrition against South Viet Nam and equally cruel attrition on U.S. nerves and staying power.

Willing to Wait

It is extremely doubtful that Ho Chi Min. North Viet Nam's leader, wants Chinese volunteers. Repeatedly, North Viet Nam's propaganda has pronounced the willingness of the Vietnamese to hold out 20 years, if necessary, for unification of the country on Hanoi's terms.

It seems hardly coincidental that North Vietnamese propaganda for home consumption has recalled the heroism of the area's people centuries ago in repelling invasions. The cry "Dien Hong," raised to stir patriotism in North Viet Nam, commemorates a victory by the ancient Tran dynasty over Chinese invaders. Historically, the Vietnamese distrust the Chinese and fear them.

Avoid Conflict

Ho and his regime, by all appearances, in recent weeks have tried studiously to steer clear of the Moscow-Peking conflict and to refer to Peking and Moscow in equally respectful terms.

Daily, North Vietnamese propaganda says Communist victory in the south is inevitable in any event.

But the Russian voice, denouncing the Americans and promising more help to North Viet Nam, has become louder and more insistent, as if produced by the contest with the Chinese.

When the Russians stepped up their promises and their denunciations of the United States, the Chinese apparently sought not only to match the Russians but to go one better.

Nevertheless, Peking has been prudent about its own involvement and the prospects of a direct showdown with American power. Volunteers might be "preparing" to go to Viet Nam, but the chances are they will not be sent unless the Chinese see a possibility that the Americans can win.

Shoplifting Bill Under Fire From State Committee

MADISON (AP)—Proponents of a bill allowing merchants to detain for up to 30 minutes suspected shoplifters without incurring civil liability for false arrest drew fire from the Assembly Judiciary Committee members at a public hearing for the proposal.

For over an hour Tuesday, five Democratic committee members grilled Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, co-sponsor of the measure, and Sam Ogle, executive director of the Wisconsin Retail Merchants Association.

"I feel freedom of improper restraint is one of the basic freedoms of our whole society," said Assemblyman Edward Nager, D-Madison, a committee member who appeared against the bill.

Earlier, Ogle asked whether Wisconsin was any different from several other states that have enacted similar bills and reported no abuses of rights.

Nager replied "yes, this state is different. We have not gotten to the point where we detain people without due process of law."

Appearing against the bill were Frank Ranney of the Wisconsin Teamsters Joint Council, Ted James of the Wisconsin state AFL-CIO, and Assemblyman Edward Mertz, D-Milwaukee.

Plug Hole

The rising waters still were some distance from the break, and flood fighters immediately began to plug the hole.

At Marquette, Iowa, the river reached 23 feet Tuesday on the way to a crest of 24.5 feet expected Friday.

Mrs. Delbert Jenkins of Marquette said the tavern operated by her police chief husband had closed. The Riverview tavern normally rings with laughter, but Mrs. Jenkins said, "No body's laughing now."

"We're surrounded by water," she said. "All the highways are closed. We still get mail every day when an army 'duck' comes in. But people going in and out have to use a boat."

Marquette is across the river from Prairie du Chien, Wis., where officials were wondering what to do about an elderly man and wife who have refused to leave their home.

The flood waters are only 50 feet away and the crest is still to come.

River Patrol

Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner ordered 45 National Guardsmen from Rock Island to duty Tuesday. They will patrol river levees in the East Dubuque area. They joined 300 other Guardsmen ordered to patrol duty last week in the Henderson County and Quincy area to the south.

About 40 homes in the East Dubuque area were surrounded by 15 feet of flood water. A dike protecting another 108 homes showed signs of seepage Tuesday and sewers were backing up.

Two trustees at the Illinois State Prison at Menard were

1,000 persons may have to be evacuated if the seepage continued. The river reached a record crest of 22.6 feet Tuesday and was expected to go to 24 feet.

More than 10,000 volunteers, National Guardsmen and Red Cross workers have been working around the clock in Illinois to bolster flood defenses between Rock Island and Quincy with 650,000 sandbags.

Quincy Crest

The Weather Bureau revised its flood crest forecast for Quincy, saying the river will hit 23.5 feet on May 1, or six inches below the figure predicted originally.

Helicopters dumped junked cars near Rock Creek north of Quincy in an effort to reinforce weakened levees holding back flood waters that have already swept over 7,000 acres of farmland.

Two trustees at the Illinois State Prison at Menard were

1,000 persons may have to be evacuated if the seepage continued. The river reached a record crest of 22.6 feet Tuesday and was expected to go to 24 feet.

Warden Ross Randolph said debris apparently sheared a pin in the propeller shaft of the motor on their escape boat. They were picked up by a prison patrol boat after drifting to an island about five miles from the prison.

Twenty-five miles upriver from La Crosse at Winona, Minn., the river began to inch back. After hitting a peak of 20.75 feet, it slipped slightly to 20.67 feet.

Winona Mayor Rudy Ellings said, "After the biggest battle in our city's history it now appears our efforts will be successful."

Winona threw up nine miles of earthen dike. Ellings said they "look better today than they ever have."

Wabasha, to the north of Winona, still was surrounded by water but levels were going down slowly.

Thomson Plans Bill to Give Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., said today he is preparing a bill for introduction in the House which would set up a special federal disaster fund for persons and municipalities hit by floods or tornadoes.

Thomson said the bill proposes to have the federal government match on a three to one basis any funds appropriated by a state to repair or replace property damaged in counties designated as disaster areas by the President.

Home owners would pay one-half of the cost of repairing their dwellings. Businessmen, including farmers, would pay a fourth of the first $10,000 damage and half of the additional costs. Federal funds would be used for the additional costs.

Appeals Court Upholds NLRB Kohler Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—A supplemental National Labor Relations Board decision ordering the Kohler Co. of Kohler, Wis., to reinstate 57 strike leaders with back pay was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals Tuesday.

Lyman C. Conger, Kohler vice president, said at Kohler that the decision would be appealed. The second NLRB ruling on the issue had reversed portions of an earlier board decision upholding the plumbingware firm's discharge of 77 employees for alleged misconduct on the picket lines and elsewhere during a six-year strike by the United Auto Workers. The strike began in 1954.

$2,019 Paid by Democrats for LBJ Campaign Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee paid $2,019.38 for the use of military helicopters by President Johnson during the 1964 presidential campaign.

The Defense Department said this today on response to an inquiry.

Last week, the Pentagon said that the national committee had paid more than $149,000 for the President's use of Air Force planes in the campaign. Nothing was said at the time about any bill to the national committee for helicopters.

Washington Antipoverty Drive in High Gear, Setting National Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thanks to a head start over the rest of the country, Washington's antipoverty drive is in high gear. It could be a preview of what happens nationally. Even before Congress approved that President Johnson describes as a "war on poverty," programs were under way here to combat illiteracy, delinquency and unemployment. One of the program's major concepts, the neighborhood youth corps program to reduce school dropouts and improve economic opportunities for teenagers, first was tried out here on a pilot basis last year. When a congressional task force checked recently into the local effort, its chairman, Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., said: "I could not be more delighted, nor surprised, than I was to see how far you've gone. I just hope as we go around the country, we see as many good evidences of good progress."

Dispense Grants Since the Office of Economic Opportunity began to dispense antipoverty grants last November, it has poured almost $5 million into programs here. Besides these funds, the United Planning Organization which is coordinating Washington's antipoverty programs, has received more than $3 million from other sources with another $5 million on the way. This includes two grants from the Ford Foundation, totaling $3.36 million, to reduce poverty, dependency and delinquency, and $5 million voted by Congress last year. A large portion of this money is being used in the capital's Cardozo district — a predominantly Negro slum area with high unemployment and illiteracy. An experimental model school program is under way in Cardozo's 14 elementary and three junior high schools, supported by a $604,368 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

group called Associated Community Teams. Large Grants The largest grants in the Washington program so far have gone for the neighborhood youth corps. The first grant of $2.25 million was to provide part-time jobs with government, school and social agencies for 1,500 boys and 1,754 girls so they can afford to stay in school. A second grant of $800,000 will finance a youth opportunity center and a network of neighborhood job planning centers to provide youths 16 to 21 with testing, counseling and job referrals. These other programs are either under way or on the planning boards. Other Programs —A job training program for unemployed heads of households. An enrollment of 700 is planned for launching of the program this summer. —A program to teach adolescents

Wednesday, April 2, 1965 The Post-Crescent A 2 Although there has been some criticism of salaries of top officials, they generally are in line with those of other top city officials. James G. Bank receives $25,000 a year — $1,000 below the top city salaries for President. Walter N. Tobriner of the D.C. Board of Commissioners and School Supt. Carl Hansen. More Advanced Officials say that Washington's program is more advanced than those in other cities, such as New York. The program is also helped by the officials say, because it is all being channeled through a single group — the United Planning Organization. They cite Detroit as having similar advantage, whereas other cities, such as New York, have a number of different agencies handling the program.

Thai Doctor Studies Extra - Ocular Sight

BY T. JEFF WILLIAMS

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — eight years before doctors in the Soviet Union reported a woman could "see" through her finger-tips.

Sensitive to Light

The doctor says his work is based on the theory that certain areas of the head are sensitive to light rays when the person is under hypnosis. His tests have shown the left cheek to be the most sensitive.

This strange ability — called extra-ocular vision — is reported before a hypnotized boy, ordered by a Thai doctor. Many are skeptical, but support for his attempt to read the paper. The studies appears to be growing.

He is Dr. Vichit Sukhakarn, a much to his amazement, general practitioner who uses Later, he explained, he com-hypnosis on his blind pupils. An American physician, Dr. Percy Grover of Coronado, Calif., visited here in March and heard of the experiment.

At the home of Dr. Vichit's son, a boy named Putsong was put into a trance. Dr. Grover held a strip of paper about three feet from the boy. Putsong, his head swinging slowly back and forth like a radar antenna, fi-nally "sighted" the paper. After a moment, he selected a match-ing color from strips in front of him.

An experiment to have the youth name the colors failed. Dr. Vichit explained that since Putsong had never seen color he could not identify it. But he could select matching colors according to intensity.

Dr. Grover said later, "All my attempts to refute Dr. Vichit's claims were unsuccessful. As my research progressed I became more and more positive that Dr. Vichit's discovery was a scientific fact and had nothing to do with telepathy."

One theory holds that in a trance the skin becomes photo-graphic and specific compounds which the nerves to the visual recep-tive center in the brain.

Another theory is that the skin might bounce signals off ob-jects, as objects bounce radar signals back. Some types of fish generate electrical fields and detect objects by disturbances made in these fields.

Whatever the theories, Dr. Vichit's discovery was a scientific fact and had nothing to do with telepathy.
